No Change In Truman Condition

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman's condition remained serious today as the 88-year-old former president entered the second week of his uphill struggle with heart, lung, chest and kidney problems.

Dr. Wallace Graham, Truman's personal physician, said Truman is semiconscious and his condition "remains serious and could fluctuate within the category for some time."

Truman's condition has wavered within the serious classification twice since he went off the critical list Sunday, Late Sunday, Research Hospital and Medical Center reported there were irregularities in the rhythm of his heart beat.

Tuesday morning, a hospital spokesman said that Truman's vital signs of pulse, blood pressure and temperature were unstable.

By midafternoon Tuesday, his condition was reported as improved and at the final briefing Tuesday night he was reported unchanged. His temperature was 99.4.

Truman was admitted to the hospital Dec. 5 when he complained of lung congestion. A week ago he was classed as critical after antiobiotic medication failed to eliminate heart and kidney complications.

The hospital said Truman's "kidney functions continue adequate."

John Dreves, the hospital spokesman, said that Truman's 87-year-old wife Bess and his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Truman Daniel, did not visit the former President Tuesday. He said they had been seeing Truman daily.

Truman is receiving oxygen continuously through a face mask and he is being fed through a nasal-gastric tube.

In response to a newsman's question, Dreves said that Truman is not and never has been on life-supporting machinery such as an artificial respirator.

Orange Moon Soil Found

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two jubilant American adventurers prepared today for a farewell lunar exploration. But already aboard their lander Challenger was a new discovery — samples of intriguing orange soil possibly dating to the last fiery gasps of a dying moon.

Astronauts Eugene A. Cernan and Harrison H. Schmitt, in their last geology field trip in the moon valley of Taurus-Littrow today, take an eight-mile drive along the base of a high mountain and at the foot of wrinkled hills, using an electric car with a patched fender.

The astronauts, saying they "like to cover new ground," traveled a mile farther than planned on Tuesday night, gathering many bags of lunar samples, including scoops of the orange dust never before found on the moon.

The orange material was found during exploration of an ancient avalanche, 4.4 miles from the landing camp in Taurus-Littrow valley. By coincidence, it was found by Cernan, not Schmitt, a geologist and America's first professional scientist in space.

"Hey," exclaimed Cernan as he stumbled into the soil at the rim of a crater called Shorty. "Wait a minute ... there is orange soil."

"It's all over," Cernan went on excitedly. "Orange. I've stirred it up with my feet.

On earth, scientists were also excited by the discovery, though cautious in their evaluation. They said the orange soil may,have originated from "the last gaseous gasp of volcanism" on the moon.

Dr. Robin Brett, chief of the geochemistry branch at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the material possibly could be rust — which has been found in other lunar samples in minute quantities — or some chemical combination which assumes a reddish color.

While Cernan and Schmitt motored on the moon, their crewmate, Ronald E. Evans, labored in the command ship America orbiting overhead. Evans is operating an array of science instruments which are photographing and probing large slices of the moon.

If the soil is a product of the volcanism that Brett spoke of, it may represent material from as recent as 100 million years ago, a time that's only yesterday in the evolution of the moon.

Cernan, the 38-year old mission commander, and Schmitt, 37, photographed the orange material in color from several angles and then took big scoop samples. Cernan also drove two core tubes into the material to get deeper samples.

But, pressed by time, the astronauts were not able to stay longer and find what Schmitt said could have been evidence of volcanic action from the moon's more recent geologic past.

The travelers of Taurus-Littrow started their day working as space-age auto mechanics.

The right rear fender of their $2 million electric car had been torn off by accident Monday and they wanted to repair it.

Following instructions from Mission Control and using a design suggested by Apollo 16 commander John Young, Schmitt and Cernan clamped a taped-together sheet of plasticlike paper in the place of the broken fender. They were delighted with the makeshift repair job.

"That fender is really a classic," said Schmitt.

"One might say it's a Younger fender," punned Cernan, referring to Young. He promised to photograph the fender repair and give a copy to Young as a present.

Current Viet Peace Talks End

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho met today for what may be their last session in the current phase of their negotiations for a cease-fire in Vietnam.

Kissinger was expected to fly to Washington to report to President Nixon soon after his meeting with Tho in a suburban villa. Before they met, a subcommittee of experts from both nations held a 90-minute meeting to discuss details of a settlement.

French press reports said agreement was near on the issue blocking a cease-fire accord, the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. La Nation predicted agreement in "a matter of hours."

But Humanite, the French Communist party newspaper, said Kissinger was insisting on fundamental changes in the draft he and Tho worked out in October and "is holding up the signature of an accord which could lead to a cease-fire within 24 hours."

Kissinger was accompanied this morning by William J. Porter, the U.S. delegate to the four-party weekly peace talks, and William Sullivan, deputy assistant secretary of state for Southeast Asian affairs. Tho's delegation included Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese delegate to the four-party talks, and Nguyen Co Thach, Hanoi's deputy foreign minister.

Kissinger's plane arrived at Orly Airport Tuesday night from a U.S. air base in Germany. Airport authorities said the U.S. embassy ordered the crew to prepare for departure today after the meeting with Tho.

President Nixon's national security adviser conferred for 4½ hours Tuesday with Hanoi's chief peace negotiator after two subcommittees met earlier in the day to discuss details of the cease-fire draft.

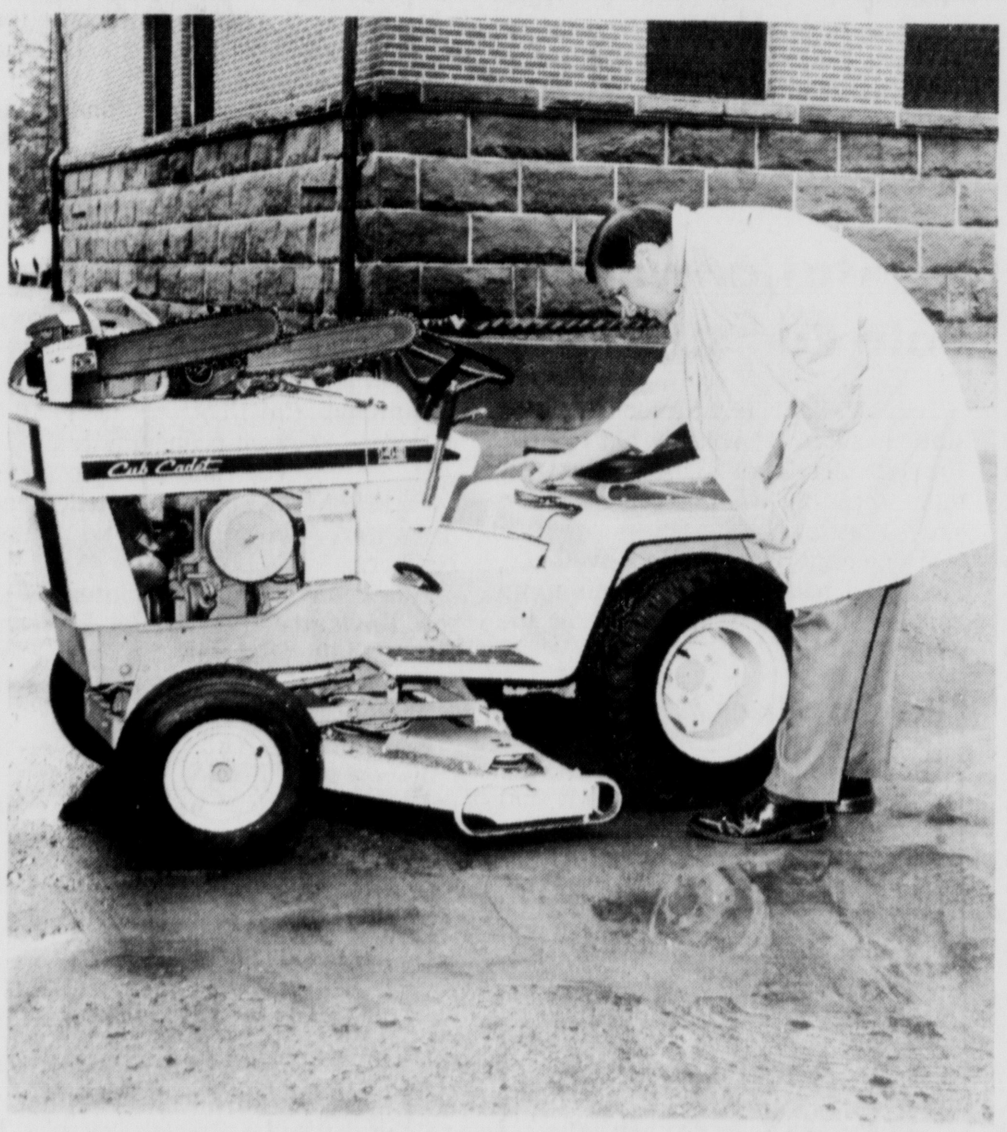
The two peace negotiators had met for 52 hours during the past three weeks when Tuesday's session ended with cordial handhakes at a villa in Gif sur Yvette, 15 miles southwest of Paris.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann, who keeps in close contact with both sides, said Tuesday that a compromise is "possible and likely" despite "some signs of intractability."

"I have always been convinced that there will be a settlement before the U.S. Congress meets" on Jan. 3, Schumann told a press luncheon.

Reports from Saigon today said that President Nguyen Van Thieu feels President Nixon is hoping to announce a peace settlement during the Christmas season or in January, during his State of the Union address or at his inauguration.

Legislators who attended a reception at the presidential palace said Thieu also told them he does not believe Nixon will sign a bilateral agreement with North Vietnam.



CHECK SERIAL NUMBER — Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff points out the serial number on an International Cub Cadet tractor stolen from Contractors and Industrial Supply Sept. 3. The Sheriff recovered the tractor early Tuesday morning in Scioto County, where it had been purchased from two men currently being held in Pickaway County jail after they were apprehended at the local supply firm Dec. 7. The men are Russell Cummings, 28, and Charles Burchett Jr., 20, both of Lucasville. Sheriff Radcliff also recovered two chain saws and assorted hand tools taken in the $10,000 robbery.

U.S. Planes Seek To Block End Run By Viet Red Tanks

SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 100 tanks and several thousand fresh North Vietnamese troops have crossed the mountain passes that feed the Ho Chi Minh Trail, and American B52s and fighter-bombers are harassing them as they make their way south, U.S. sources reported today.

Some intelligence reports indicate the armor may be headed for the Plain of Jars in Laos rather than for South Vietnam. Several of the tanks have been knocked out, according to military sources.

An equal number of tanks have reached the three North Vietnamese divisions in South Vietnam's war-ravaged Quang Tri Province, the sources reported.

Up to 8,000 troops also have been sent across the DMZ in recent weeks to reinforce the depleted North Vietnamese divisions in Quang Tri.

Another 10,000 North Vietnamese may be heading for battlefronts closer to Saigon, other sources reported. They are believed to have reached base areas in southern Laos and are expected to arrive in South Vietnam early in the new year.

The dry weather has set in over southern Laos, and this is the season during which the Ho Chi Minh Trail is traditionally busiest. American air strikes have attempted to close the three main passes feeding the trail from North Vietnam by setting off landslides with high explosive bombs. Reconnaissance photos suggest the bombers have been only partially successful.

B52s made more than 25 strikes in North Vietnam and about 45 in South Vietnam from noon Tuesday until 6 a.m. today, the U.S. Command announced.

Heavy rain reduced fighterbomber strikes against North Vietnam to 20 Tuesday, the lowest number since Nov. 8. U.S. pilots flew 323 fighter-bomber strikes in South Vietnam, 193 of them in the northern provinces, the U.S. Command announced.

The U.S. Command said two crewmen were listed as missing from an Air Force RF4 reconnaissance plane that was shot down Saturday 175 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

Heavy ground action was reported in two widely separated areas of South Vietnam, although the general level of fighting continued light. The Saigon command reported 69 enemy attacks, 55 of them by shelling.

Geologist Predicts Another Ice Age Within 200 Years

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Longer winters and colder temperatures have led Cleveland geologist Francis Stehli to predict that the world is headed for another Ice Age within 200 years.

"We may not be covered by 2,000 feet of ice in 200 or even 2,000 years," said Stehli, chairman of the geology department of Case Western Reserve University. "But in about 200 years the winter will produce more snow than the summer sun can melt, thus creating a year-long winter condition."

Stehli says he drew his conclusion after studying deep sea temperature variances directed toward discovering locations of new oil deposits for the Marathon Oil Corp.

"The last ice age began about 12 million years ago," said Stehli, "and its ice masses remained until about 9,000 years ago. The earth's physical history repeats itself even more assuredly than the social history.

"The next ice age is definitely on its way," he added.

The geologist believes should the ice age occur again — and cover the northern hemisphere with ice as thick as 2,000 feet — society will be endangered.

"The vital functions such as farming, transportation and communication in the northern hemsphere "would cease," Stehli said.

The turnabout in temperatures and the longer winters began in the 1940s, Stehli says, and he adds that it's not unrealistic to think that penguins and walruses will be walking on the shores of the Great Lakes in 200 years.

Stehli says he discovered the temperatures changes by studying small, one-celled life forms called foraminifera. He says these shell-covered animals are brought up from the ocean floor after having been dead as long as 100 million years.

Eddie Rickenbacker Improving Steadily

MIAMI (AP) — Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the 82-year-old World War I flying ace, is reported steadily improving at Memorial Hospital, where he is recovering from a stroke.

"He's an amazing man," said Dr. John Handwerker in reporting Monday that Rickenbacker had been taken off the critical list.

Ohio House Kills Constitutional Amendments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House killed three proposed constitutional amendments Tuesday, but breathed temporary life into a resolution providing for a state lottery.

The House Rules Committee postponed until today the lottery issue after Rep. Carlton Davidson, R-26 Ironton, said he had some amendments to offer.

Davidson, who voted for the issue when it lacked two votes of coming out of the committee last week, said Tuesday he wanted to earmark some of the revenues, which he estimated at $100 million a year.

He listed law enforcement, the mentally retarded, vocational education and non-support enforcement as some of the places he wanted to earmark the funds.

The House did pass, and send to the Senate, a Republican sponsored bill to earmark $69 million of federal Revenue Sharing funds. The GOP admittedly wants to get the bill out of the way before Democrats take over control of the House Jan. 1. Democrats already control administrative offices and will be within one vote of controlling the Senate.

Turned down on the House floor were three constitutional amendment proposals that legislative leaders hoped could be on the May ballot.

The three were:

—A proposal to reimburse the lawmakers for "reasonable expenses" for time spent in Columbus.

—Eliminate constitutional requirements for an annual session, now provided in each appropriation bill, and the necessity for a Supreme Court Commission, created in 1876.

—Repeal of constitutional provisions regarding the administration and organization of the General Assembly.

A three-fifths majority, 60 votes, was needed in the 99-member House to put any of the amendment proposals before the Senate, and then the voters.

None got the necessary 60, and only two received the 50 that would pass most proposals.

The bill to appropriate the Revenue Sharing money passed by a 50-35 margin, the minimum necessary. The administration of Gov. John Gilligan is against it, claiming the issue can wait until next year.

House Minority Leader A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, who will be speaker in the new Democratic-controlled House, said Gilligan's office is preparing its own bill.

Rep. Harry Lehman, D-56 Shaker Heights, led the fight over the constitutional amendments, knocked off the ballot in package form by the Ohio Supreme Court last spring.

Lehman wanted to postpone a floor vote until today, contending the fate of the lottery proposal should determine whether the issues were submitted in May or November.

"A statewide election in May," he said, "would cost the taxpayers several million dollars."

The bill to raise the pay of legislators and county officials apparently died in the Senate Ways and Means Committee. Chairman Michael Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said it would be up to the House to revive it.

A Hamilton County colleague, Rep. Norman Murdock, R-70 Cincinnati, offered a bill in the House that would prohibit recovery of pay raises given municipal judges since May 7, 1968.

Auditor Joseph Ferguson has said the raises were illegal under recent Ohio Supreme Court decision and that he would order the raises—which went to other judges—to be returned.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices sagged on the nation's major stock exchanges today, but the losses—like Tuesday's—were mild.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 2.03 to 1031.16. Tuesday the Dow had dipped 3.08 points.

Declining stocks outnumbered advances 765 to 430 on the Big Board, with 1,603 issues exchange in moderate trading. The New York Stock Exchange Index of some 1,400 common stocks was down 0.13 to 64.76.

"Calling this a dip is kind of stretching it," said Jerry White of Sterling, Grace & Co. "The market has gone up 12 or 13 per cent since mid-October almost without any stop. However, any delay in a peace settlement will cause a short-term selloff."

At the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was off .05 to 26.63. Ward Cut-Rate Drug Co. was down 3 to 23⅞ after Jack Eckerd Corp. announced plans to acquire it.

New England Takes Brunt Of Ice Storm; Lines Down

An ice storm that racked the Midwest Tuesday moved into New England today, glazing trees and power lines and creating hazardous driving conditions.

Freezing rain covered the southern sections of New England but turned to snow in the north. Ice-storm warnings were in effect in New Hampshire and southern Maine, and an icestorm watch was out for northern Maine.

The icy conditions all but immobilized the Midwest Tuesday, snapped power lines, slowed traffic and commuter service and forced many school districts to call off classes.

Six inches of snow accompanying an ice storm caused a greenhouse in the Grand Rapids, Mich, area to collapse.

Utility crews worked into the early morning hours in the St. Louis area to restore electric service to more than 15,000 customers who were without power because of lines broken by the ice.

Snow swirled over the upper Great Lakes, and locally heavy snow and traveler advisories were issued for upper Michigan and southern Lake Michigan.

Visibility was near zero on the Atlantic Coast from Georgia to the Carolinas as heavy fog and drizzle dampened the region.

Rain and thundershowers doused areas from southern Mississippi across the Ohio Valley to Lake Erie.

Locally heavy snow over Utah and eastern Nevada prompted trave! warnings as snow whitened areas from the northern Rockies to Colorado and Utah.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 17 at Worland, Wyo., and Havre, Mont., to 78 at Key West, Fla.

Court Of Appeals Orders Retrial Of Conley Case

Fourth District Court of Appeals judges returned a case involving Robert G. Conley to the Pickaway County Court, authorizing a new trial for him.

Conley was found guilty of aggrevated assault by a jury of twelve in January 1971, and sentenced to a penal institution. He has been free under bond pending outcome of his appeal.

The appeals court ruled that aggrevated assault was not a lesser charge of kidnaping, for which he was indicted.

The case involved an alleged incident between Conley and a young Columbus secretary on Route 23, in which she claimed he tried to accost her when her auto broke down on the roadway.

Toy Safety Consideration Urged By Health Official

Dr. Frank Moore, Pickaway County health commissioner, believes that families should make themselves aware of the hazards of toys they may buy during the Christmas season.

His concern for toy safety arises from national estimates that each year 750,000 children will be injured by toys and playthings. In Ohio alone, the child-injury figure from toys could exceed 35,000 annually according to Dr. Moore.

"No toy-safety law can completely protect children from all inherent dangers," the local health commissioner states. "Many of these dangers can be minimized, however, when parents remember the cardinal rule for toy safety — the maturity of the child."

Dr. Moore suggests parents consider some of the following injury hazards when purchasing toys:

Does the toy have sharp, cutting edges or easily shatterable parts capable of piercing or puncturing; is there a high explosive potential or electric shock hazard; is the material highly flammable; could the toy be poisonous to the child or have potentials of suffocation or strangulation; does the toy have parts which can pinch fingers or catch hair; is the toy put together with easily exposed straight pins, sharp wires, nails; does the toy have detachable parts that can lodge in the windpipe, ears, or nostrils.

Dr. Moore emphasizes the blame can not be placed entirely on the toy. A number of basically safe toys become hazardous through faulty supervision or abuse. Broken toys and misuse of toys are more common causes of accidents than is the design. Even apparently safe items such as marbles, bats and balls, dolls and bicycles when used carelessly can inflict serious injuries. Children are capable of learn-safety rules at a very early age. Working with the child in teaching safety procedures will insure his ability to handle toys a little more safely.

Farm Aid Ruling Near

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hard-hit Ohio farmers have been told they can expect a federal decision on their requests for emergency loans today or Thursday.

Early and continuous rains have stalled the harvest of corn and soybean crops, leaving farmers facing financial disaster.

Limited harvesting is being further hampered by a shortage of propane gas which is used to dry grain once it is cut. Agriculture officials have blamed the shortage on increase in usage for heating homes.

Earlier this month, the state emergency board for the U.S. Department of Agriculture forwarded emergency one per cent loan requests from 67 Ohio counties to Secretary Agriculture Earl Butz for final approval.

Officials said the requests will be reviewed on a county-by-county basis, with perhaps some counties dropped from the list.

Five Plead Not Guilty

Last week, five persons appeared before Judge Guy Cline to enter pleas for arraignment. All were indicted by the Nov. 3 grand jury.

All six entered pleas of not guilty to the charges. They are:

Adam Cox Jr., 37, of 120½ E. Main St., two counts of assault with intent to rob stemming from an Oct. 3 incident involving Omer Sowers and Dewey Blevins.

Sixty-six-year-old John Minor, Williamsport, issuing a $5 check on the Third National Bank with no account.

Italian Riots Injure 38; 45 Arrested

ROME (AP) — Thousands of rampaging leftist and anarchist youths turned Rome's historic piazzas, gaily decorated for Christmas, into battlegrounds Tuesday night over a bombing trial delayed for three years.

Rome took the brunt of violence as young extremists took to the streets in several Italian cities demanding the release of 12 anarchists and leftists rounded up after the Milan bank bombing on Dec. 12, 1969.

At least 38 persons were injured and 45 arrested during the demonstrations.

Roman youths staged three hours of violence, setting fire to dozens of cars and throwing fire bombs and stones at police. The police replied with night sticks and tear-gas barrages. Clouds of the acrid gas drove many residents from their apartments.

Christmas stalls were torn down in the Piazza Navona by youths who also stormed through the Campo de Fiori and the Largo Arenula.

Fire bombs were thrown at the offices of Il Popolo, the newspaper of the ruling Christian Democratic party. One band of youths forced a bus driver to block a main street with his vehicle.

Traffic was at a standstill as police and firemen rushed from one disturbance to another. Burning cars lit the night, and sirens wailed for hours.

In Milan, bands of roving youths harassed 8,000 riot police with clubs, bricks, iron bars and fire bombs. Ten policemen were injured and seven demonstrators arrested.

In Naples, three persons were hospitalized by an explosion at a young Communists' youth rally.

New Cancer Experiment Faces Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Cancer Institute, in a cautiously worded statement, says it plans to evaluate a possible new lead in cancer research stemming from an Italian scientist's findings in virus studies.

The NCI learned of the Italian's work from Dr. Albert Sabin, the developer of oral polio vaccine.

Both scientists have been working with "herpes simplex" viruses that cause common cold sores in humans, the NCI said.

The Italian scientist is Dr. Giulio Tarro of the University of Naples, and the NCI said it is inviting him to the United States to work in an institute laboratory to confirm his most recent findings.

But the NCI, in a statement issued in response to a query, said:

"The preliminary nature of this finding should be emphasized. The initial scientific procedures must now be repeated and extended before any definite conclusions can be drawn."

The institute added, however:

"If confirmed, immunological techniques developed by Drs. Tarro and Sabin might provide a means to establish a relationship between human herpes simplex viruses and certain cancers, and may provide a means for the early detection of some types of cancer. At present, it has not been proved that herpes simplex viruses can cause cancer in humans ...."

The NCI said Dr. Tarro began to study the possible role of such viruses in human cancer in 1966 while working with Dr. Sabin, then at the University of Cincinnati but now president of the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovot, Israel.

FDA Proposes Rules To Curb Vitamins A, D

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing a danger of "acute and chronic toxicity" in high doses, the Food and Drug Administration today moved to limit the strength of Vitamin A and D products.

"The availability without prescription of these vitamins in high dosage levels contributes significantly to their misuse and the occurrence of serious adverse effects," the agency said.

Interested persons have 60 days to comment on the proposal, which will be followed "in the near future" by broad regulations covering most other vitamins, minerals, and other food supplements.

Americans have been taking vitamin supplements for decades, but concern has been heightened by the new healthfood craze.

The FDA said it has received reports of heavy promotion of both Vitamins A and D for the treatment of acne, night blindness and arthritis although "neither is proven effective for these conditions in well-nourished people."

The proposed daily limits are 10,000 international units for Vitamin A and 400 for D, which the FDA said would be "within the recommended daily dosages" established by the National Academy of Sciences.

Some products now on the market contain 10 times the recommended intake of D, the FDA said.

The FDA said overdoses of Vitamin A can cause a wide range of complications, such as anorexia, growth retardation in children, drying and cracking skin, increased pressure in the skull, pain, irritability and headaches.

Vitamin D in excessive doses can be even more toxic, the FDA said, resulting at the extreme in hypertension, hypercalcemia in children, irreversible kidney failure and death.

"Generally, the margin of safety between nutritional requirements and toxic levels is small for Vitamin D," the FDA said, especially in hyperreactive individuals.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices sagged on the nation's major stock exchanges today, but the losses—like Tuesday's—were mild.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 2.03 to 1031.16. Tuesday the Dow had dipped 3.08 points.

Declining stocks outnumbered advances 765 to 430 on the Big Board, with 1,603 issues exchange in moderate trading. The New York Stock Exchange Index of some 1,400 common stocks was down 0.13 to 64.76.

"Calling this a dip is kind of stretching it," said Jerry White of Sterling, Grace & Co. "The market has gone up 12 or 13 per cent since mid-October almost without any stop. However, any delay in a peace settlement will cause a short-term selloff."

At the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was off .05 to 26.63. Ward Cut-Rate Drug Co. was down 3 to 23⅞ after Jack Eckerd Corp. announced plans to acquire it.

Conley was found guilty of aggrevated assault by a jury of twelve in January 1971, and sentenced to a penal institution. He has been free under bond pending outcome of his appeal.

The appeals court ruled that aggrevated assault was not a lesser charge of kidnaping, for which he was indicted.

The case involved an alleged incident between Conley and a young Columbus secretary on Route 23, in which she claimed he tried to accost her when her auto broke down on the roadway.

Toy Safety Consideration Urged By Health Official

Dr. Frank Moore, Pickaway County health commissioner, believes that families should make themselves aware of the hazards of toys they may buy during the Christmas season.

His concern for toy safety arises from national estimates that each year 750,000 children will be injured by toys and playthings. In Ohio alone, the child-injury figure from toys could exceed 35,000 annually according to Dr. Moore.

"No toy-safety law can completely protect children from all inherent dangers," the local health commissioner states. "Many of these dangers can be minimized, however, when parents remember the cardinal rule for toy safety — the maturity of the child."

Dr. Moore suggests parents consider some of the following injury hazards when purchasing toys:

Does the toy have sharp, cutting edges or easily shatterable parts capable of piercing or puncturing; is there a high explosive potential or electric shock hazard; is the material highly flammable; could the toy be poisonous to the child or have potentials of suffocation or strangulation; does the toy have parts which can pinch fingers or catch hair; is the toy put together with easily exposed straight pins, sharp wires, nails; does the toy have detachable parts that can lodge in the windpipe, ears, or nostrils.

Dr. Moore emphasizes the blame can not be placed entirely on the toy. A number of basically safe toys become hazardous through faulty supervision or abuse. Broken toys and misuse of toys are more common causes of accidents than is the design. Even apparently safe items such as marbles, bats and balls, dolls and bicycles when used carelessly can inflict serious injuries. Children are capable of learn-safety rules at a very early age. Working with the child in teaching safety procedures will insure his ability to handle toys a little more safely.

Farm Aid Ruling Near

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hard-hit Ohio farmers have been told they can expect a federal decision on their requests for emergency loans today or Thursday.

Early and continuous rains have stalled the harvest of corn and soybean crops, leaving farmers facing financial disaster.

Limited harvesting is being further hampered by a shortage of propane gas which is used to dry grain once it is cut. Agriculture officials have blamed the shortage on increase in usage for heating homes.

Earlier this month, the state emergency board for the U.S. Department of Agriculture forwarded emergency one per cent loan requests from 67 Ohio counties to Secretary Agriculture Earl Butz for final approval.

Officials said the requests will be reviewed on a county-by-county basis, with perhaps some counties dropped from the list.

Five Plead Not Guilty

Last week, five persons appeared before Judge Guy Cline to enter pleas for arraignment. All were indicted by the Nov. 3 grand jury.

All six entered pleas of not guilty to the charges. They are:

Adam Cox Jr., 37, of 120½ E. Main St., two counts of assault with intent to rob stemming from an Oct. 3 incident involving Omer Sowers and Dewey Blevins.

Sixty-six-year-old John Minor, Williamsport, issuing a $5 check on the Third National Bank with no account.

Final Plans Made For Winter Concert

Final preparations are being made for the annual Winter Concert to be held in Circleville High School auditorium 7:30 p.m. Thursday it was announced today by Gary J. Dean, director of musical activities at the high school.

The concert will feature the chorus, stage bands and the symphonic band.

Dudding Released Under Probation

Judge Guy Cline, sitting in common pleas court in the absence of Judge William Ammer, today granted release from prison for William Dudding.

Dudding, originally charged with rape, was sentenced for forcing a woman to prostitution. He will be on probation with the local court for three years.

Italian Riots Injure 38; 45 Arrested

ROME (AP) — Thousands of rampaging leftist and anarchist youths turned Rome's historic piazzas, gaily decorated for Christmas, into battlegrounds Tuesday night over a bombing trial delayed for three years.

Rome took the brunt of violence as young extremists took to the streets in several Italian cities demanding the release of 12 anarchists and leftists rounded up after the Milan bank bombing on Dec. 12, 1969.

At least 38 persons were injured and 45 arrested during the demonstrations.

Roman youths staged three hours of violence, setting fire to dozens of cars and throwing fire bombs and stones at police. The police replied with night sticks and tear-gas barrages. Clouds of the acrid gas drove many residents from their apartments.

Christmas stalls were torn down in the Piazza Navona by youths who also stormed through the Campo de Fiori and the Largo Arenula.

Fire bombs were thrown at the offices of Il Popolo, the newspaper of the ruling Christian Democratic party. One band of youths forced a bus driver to block a main street with his vehicle.

Traffic was at a standstill as police and firemen rushed from one disturbance to another. Burning cars lit the night, and sirens wailed for hours.

In Milan, bands of roving youths harassed 8,000 riot police with clubs, bricks, iron bars and fire bombs. Ten policemen were injured and seven demonstrators arrested.

In Naples, three persons were hospitalized by an explosion at a young Communists' youth rally.

New Cancer Experiment Faces Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Cancer Institute, in a cautiously worded statement, says it plans to evaluate a possible new lead in cancer research stemming from an Italian scientist's findings in virus studies.

The NCI learned of the Italian's work from Dr. Albert Sabin, the developer of oral polio vaccine.

Both scientists have been working with "herpes simplex" viruses that cause common cold sores in humans, the NCI said.

The Italian scientist is Dr. Giulio Tarro of the University of Naples, and the NCI said it is inviting him to the United States to work in an institute laboratory to confirm his most recent findings.

But the NCI, in a statement issued in response to a query, said:

"The preliminary nature of this finding should be emphasized. The initial scientific procedures must now be repeated and extended before any definite conclusions can be drawn."

The institute added, however:

"If confirmed, immunological techniques developed by Drs. Tarro and Sabin might provide a means to establish a relationship between human herpes simplex viruses and certain cancers, and may provide a means for the early detection of some types of cancer. At present, it has not been proved that herpes simplex viruses can cause cancer in humans ...."

The NCI said Dr. Tarro began to study the possible role of such viruses in human cancer in 1966 while working with Dr. Sabin, then at the University of Cincinnati but now president of the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovot, Israel.

FDA Proposes Rules To Curb Vitamins A, D

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing a danger of "acute and chronic toxicity" in high doses, the Food and Drug Administration today moved to limit the strength of Vitamin A and D products.

"The availability without prescription of these vitamins in high dosage levels contributes significantly to their misuse and the occurrence of serious adverse effects," the agency said.

Interested persons have 60 days to comment on the proposal, which will be followed "in the near future" by broad regulations covering most other vitamins, minerals, and other food supplements.

Americans have been taking vitamin supplements for decades, but concern has been heightened by the new healthfood craze.

The FDA said it has received reports of heavy promotion of both Vitamins A and D for the treatment of acne, night blindness and arthritis although "neither is proven effective for these conditions in well-nourished people."

The proposed daily limits are 10,000 international units for Vitamin A and 400 for D, which the FDA said would be "within the recommended daily dosages" established by the National Academy of Sciences.

Some products now on the market contain 10 times the recommended intake of D, the FDA said.

The FDA said overdoses of Vitamin A can cause a wide range of complications, such as anorexia, growth retardation in children, drying and cracking skin, increased pressure in the skull, pain, irritability and headaches.

Vitamin D in excessive doses can be even more toxic, the FDA said, resulting at the extreme in hypertension, hypercalcemia in children, irreversible kidney failure and death.

"Generally, the margin of safety between nutritional requirements and toxic levels is small for Vitamin D," the FDA said, especially in hyperreactive individuals.

TV Stationwagon Sold For $3,575

Teays Valley's 1972 driver education stationwagon was sold by bid to Mrs. Harriett Morris for $3,575 and not the figure reported in the school board story Tuesday.

In rejecting the bids in November, the board had specified a minimum amount of $3,495 be accepted for the vehicle.

Meeting The Demand For Oil

An oil company official has put in clearer perspective the continuing energy-ecology controversy. W. H. Burnap, executive vice president of Continental Oil Co., is convinced the question is not whether new refineries should be built and new exploration undertaken, but rather where it should be done.

If encouragement to seek new sources of petroleum in the United States is not forthcoming, Burnap warns, both American and foreign companies will look overseas for it. It is an economic necessity that they do so, because the demand for the industry's products is increasing rapidly.

There are those who sit idly by lamenting the increased demands for oil and energy. But that does not make them less real. If the oil industry is forced by government restrictions to concentrate its new exploration and refining operations overseas, the consequences could be great.

Burnap estimates the United States could lose more than a million jobs if new refineries are not started soon.

"For every refinery an American oil company chooses to build abroad," the oilman warned, "there is a proportionate export of capital, of jobs, of taxes, and ultimately of national security. Plus an additional adverse impact on balance of payments."

Other industries have found expanding opportunities in foreign lands. There is no reason to believe the oil industry will be an exception, if its contributions and needs in the United States are constantly played down and restricted.

Preservation Vs Recreation

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

U.S. federalism, as it was originally conceived by James Madison and the rest of the Founders, began with the states: they were the constitutive powers that defined what the central government might do. But when Senator Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts and Senator Abe Ribicoff of Connecticut started thinking about preserving the natural beauties of such places as Martha's Vineyard Island and the Connecticut River Valley, they began from the top down. Why not have national parks carved out by the national government in these areas which could be used for recreation by "all the people"? Presumably the Department of the Interior would run the show.

There was only one little hitch to the idea: people had been living on the Massachusetts islands and in the Connecticut valley for more than three centuries, and they did not wish to be treated like the bears of the Yellowstone. Parks bring in visitors by the busload, and recreation in a crowded space does not necessarily jibe with preservation.

The grumbling began, with the old residents often lined up against summer people, and, in time, both Ted Kennedy and Abe Ribicoff discovered they had a revolt on their hands. They are now learning that if federalism doesn't begin at home, not even the most solidy entrenched Senator can count on the support needed to keep him in Washington.

In the beginning Senator Ribicoff hoped to turn the whole Connecticut Valley, from Canada to Long Island Sound, into a national playground. But the farmers of Vermont and New Hampshire, whose most fertile acres happen to lie in the valley of the "long river," objected to seeing their meadows become museum pieces. In Massachusetts the sportsmen who shoot in the river bottoms envisioned a future in which tourists would choke out what remains of their fun. And in the lower Connecticut Valley the citizens of such lovely towns as Old Lyme and Old Saybrook wondered how the secondary road systems of the area could ever siphon off the thousands who would track in by the already clogged throughways from the west and north.

Ribicoff wanted to take 46,000 acres along the river at a price of $23 million dollars and turn it into a national park for hiking, group camping and boating. But the local people had been reading those stories of the hordes that descend each Summer on Yosemite and Yellowstone. If parks in the open West can't escape the crush, what would happen to a national park in the populous East?

The citizens of Old Lyme and the other towns sent a deputation to Cape Cod to learn what had happened there. The park land on the Cape was one thing. But the adjoining areas were another. Looking to the future, the valley town people saw their streets jammed with tourist buses and out-of-state cars, all polluting the now pleasant air. Business would undoubedly be good, but tranquillity would be gone forever.

Since the National Park Service does not seem to make a clear distinction between preservation and recreation, the local people let Ribicoff know exactly what they thought about letting their area become a ward of the Federal Government. A similar thing happened in Massachusetts, where the Martha's Vineyard natives voted against making a parkland of too much shore front. They had complained that Ted Kennedy's proposals exempted his "rich friends" in the Squibnocket end of the island. This may have been hypercritical, but the uproar had some effect: Kennedy has since watered down some of his proposals.

As a counter to the original Ribicoff idea, the Connecticut valley people want the state and the local governments to handle preservation problems. They don't want to be mere "advisers" to the Department of the Interior. A bill will be presented in the state legislature that would provide for judicious purchases of land with local zoning and easements that would retain the beauty of a region without swamping it with visitors. And, as a good politican, Abe Ribicoff has decided to give the poeple what they want. The original idea of federalism is being vindicated.

NEW YORK (AP) — You may remember the new president of the National Association of Manufacturers as the smooth quarterback who handed off the ball to Blanchard and Davis, the touchdown twins of the great Army teams of the mid-1940s.

E. Douglas Kenna, much honored himself as a football and basketball player and coach, now is calling signals for an organization that generally doesn't hear the applause of the multitude or the praise of the critics.

The NAM is made up of 12,275 members, all top officers of their organizations, all men and women of very positive opinions that they seldom fail to articulate. "They wouldn't be there if they didn't," said Kenna.

One job facing Kenna is to attract more members to NAM. Like other associations in recent years, it has shrunk in size. In 1962, its rolls numbered 16,327, but recession and business consolidations have taken a toll.

Although he accepted the job on very little notice, Kenna expects he will be able to work easily with the association's 172-man board, even though that board often is not in total agreement.

The common goal that unites them despite differences on matters such as import controls is, said Kenna, that "they are all for a good and healthy business environment."

Does such an environment sometimes conflict with other national goals, he was asked? "Yes," Kenna replied after reflecting, "there will be areas of conflict. There must be tradeoffs."

He spoke clearly, very calmly, very certainly, with a slight Mississippi accent, drawing slowly on a fine, slim cigar. He is 48, still athletic looking and inclined to dress less conservatively than some NAM members.

"We need a policy in which you wind up with a compromise," he said. "We must take the rational course. That is the policy we seek."

That philosophy was restated many times by Kenna as he prepared to take over from W. P. Gullander, who held the job of permanent president for 10 years, at the recent annual meeting.

It is not unusual as it might appear for a West Pointer to follow a business career after fulfilling his military obligations. At least one study shows that service-academy personnel, on a per graduate basis, occupy more top corporate jobs than the product of any top business school.

In India, even men from neighboring villages may not understand one another. Indians speak more than 800 languages and dialects.

"I'd like to register a formal complaint."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A small amount of blood was found in my urine during a preinsurance examination. The next test was negative. Is there any special meaning to such a finding?

Mr. S.P.D., R.I.

Dear Mr. D.:

Hematuria is the descriptive word for blood in the urine. The cause may be an infection, stones in the urinary tract, injury or some irritation of the lining of the bladder.

A single casual specimen of urine that contains blood is usually of no great importance. Should the bleeding recur, it would most certainly deserve complete and thorough study.

To the doctor, active bleeding is of great significance and is investigated in complete detail. From the diagnostic point of view, blood in the urine at the beginning of urination has a totally different meaning than bleeding at the end of urination. So special is a doctor's judgement.

By means of chemical dyes, the entire urinary tract can be studied. If any suspicious area is found, the next study is done by cystoscopy. The cystoscope is an instrument through which all areas of the urinary bladder can be seen and studied.

Sometimes sugar may be found in the urine on a single occasion. This does not mean that the person necessarily has or will have diabetes. Under normal circumstances, the kidney acts as a protective computer. When there is excessive sugar or glucose in the blood, the kidney permits it to escape in the urine.

Glycosuria, or sugar in the urine may occur in a non-diabetic after a severe injury. Occasionally, a fracture or other injury may temporarily upset the sugar tolerance or the sugar balance in the blood. This lasts a short time and is readily corrected.

The formation of urine is one of the great wonders of the body. Normally, all blood is brought directly to the kidney where its complicated network of meshing blood vessels allow waste products to be excreted in the urine. Substances like chemicals, minerals, sugar, protein, and all nutrients are preserved in the blood stream by the selective processing of the kidneys.

Albumin does not normally pass into the urine. When it is found, a wide variety of diseases are studied for its possible cause. Here, too, an occasional amount of albumin is of relatively little consequence.

Examination of the urine can be performed in great detail. The findings are very significant in the total evaluation of body functions.

The urine can be cultured for specific bacteria when infection is suspected. Microscopic study can reveal the presence or absence of pus cells. The odor, the concentration, the clarity all are significant in interpreting total health and the presence of illness.

"Why don't you write a cook book? Everyone else has."

"I'll tell you why I think you should use a nom de plume — because I don't think anyone could make Willoughby Wilberforce Willoughby a household name."

"You didn't put enough sex in it."

"You put too much sex in it."

"I hear they are going to give a cocktail party when your new novel comes out — but they're going to hold it in a telephone booth."

"I must say I haven't read a word you've written. But I have read all the reviews of your books, and some of them didn't sound half bad."

"What do you do besides write books?"

"I wish my wife were here to meet you. She's the one in the family who's gaga over literary lions."

"Willoughby, this one really would have knocked them dead 50 years ago when the Saturday Evening Post was going strong. What do you plan to do with it now — bury it?"

"I told you before you started the book I didn't like the idea in the first place. Now that you've written the book, I don't like the idea in the second place."

"We'll be glad to send you your royalties, Willoughby, as soon as they amount to more than the postage it would take to mail the letter."

"Why don't you write a novel about astrology, Willoughby? Nobody can write a book on astrology that won't make a profit."

"Why don't you spend your winters on the French Riviera like most successful writers do?"

"I'm afraid you'll have to go back to driving a cab for the Christmas season, Willoughby, or else Santa Claus won't come to our house this year."

"If that guy is a literary lion, then I must have forgotten what a mouse looks like."

"He went to the book store for an autographing session, and all the people who had bought his book showed up and demanded their money back."

"Why don't you write a book on how to be a success, Willoughby? The market should be ripe for a good fairy tale—that is, if it's funny enough."

Grumman Nixes Pact

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP) — Grumman Aerospace Corp. says it will not fulfill a contract option and build 48 more F14 Tomcat jet fighters for the Navy unless the contract terms are renegotiated.

The company stated its position Monday after the Navy announced that it was exercising its option to buy the planes at no increase in price over the terms of a 1969 contract.

Noting that it already has lost about $1 million on each of the 86 swing-wing supersonic F14s ordered so far, Grumman said it had told the Navy that it "refused to proceed under the option."

The actions set the stage for a showdown between the Department of Defense and a major aerospace manufacturer over the question of who must pay for cost overruns in such contracts.

It set up the possibility of a court fight of an appeal by Grumman to Congress for relief, such as that provided the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in its troubles with the C5A transport plane.

President To Have Peace With Congress?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says Congress will "extend the olive branch" to President Nixon in the coming session because of what may be unprecedented goodwill.

The Massachusetts Democrat made the statement Monday night in an address to a $500-per-couple fund-raising dinner in honor of Eugene L. Wyman, a fund-raiser for the Democratic party.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A small amount of blood was found in my urine during a preinsurance examination. The next test was negative. Is there any special meaning to such a finding?

Mr. S.P.D., R.I.

Dear Mr. D.:

Hematuria is the descriptive word for blood in the urine. The cause may be an infection, stones in the urinary tract, injury or some irritation of the lining of the bladder.

A single casual specimen of urine that contains blood is usually of no great importance. Should the bleeding recur, it would most certainly deserve complete and thorough study.

To the doctor, active bleeding is of great significance and is investigated in complete detail. From the diagnostic point of view, blood in the urine at the beginning of urination has a totally different meaning than bleeding at the end of urination. So special is a doctor's judgement.

By means of chemical dyes, the entire urinary tract can be studied. If any suspicious area is found, the next study is done by cystoscopy. The cystoscope is an instrument through which all areas of the urinary bladder can be seen and studied.

Sometimes sugar may be found in the urine on a single occasion. This does not mean that the person necessarily has or will have diabetes. Under normal circumstances, the kidney acts as a protective computer. When there is excessive sugar or glucose in the blood, the kidney permits it to escape in the urine.

Glycosuria, or sugar in the urine may occur in a non-diabetic after a severe injury. Occasionally, a fracture or other injury may temporarily upset the sugar tolerance or the sugar balance in the blood. This lasts a short time and is readily corrected.

The formation of urine is one of the great wonders of the body. Normally, all blood is brought directly to the kidney where its complicated network of meshing blood vessels allow waste products to be excreted in the urine. Substances like chemicals, minerals, sugar, protein, and all nutrients are preserved in the blood stream by the selective processing of the kidneys.

Albumin does not normally pass into the urine. When it is found, a wide variety of diseases are studied for its possible cause. Here, too, an occasional amount of albumin is of relatively little consequence.

Examination of the urine can be performed in great detail. The findings are very significant in the total evaluation of body functions.

The urine can be cultured for specific bacteria when infection is suspected. Microscopic study can reveal the presence or absence of pus cells. The odor, the concentration, the clarity all are significant in interpreting total health and the presence of illness.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks an author gets tired of hearing:

"Why don't you write a cook book? Everyone else has."

"I'll tell you why I think you should use a nom de plume — because I don't think anyone could make Willoughby Wilberforce Willoughby a household name."

"You didn't put enough sex in it."

"You put too much sex in it."

"I hear they are going to give a cocktail party when your new novel comes out — but they're going to hold it in a telephone booth."

"I must say I haven't read a word you've written. But I have read all the reviews of your books, and some of them didn't sound half bad."

"What do you do besides write books?"

"I wish my wife were here to meet you. She's the one in the family who's gaga over literary lions."

"Willoughby, this one really would have knocked them dead 50 years ago when the Saturday Evening Post was going strong. What do you plan to do with it now — bury it?"

"I told you before you started the book I didn't like the idea in the first place. Now that you've written the book, I don't like the idea in the second place."

"We'll be glad to send you your royalties, Willoughby, as soon as they amount to more than the postage it would take to mail the letter."

"Why don't you write a novel about astrology, Willoughby? Nobody can write a book on astrology that won't make a profit."

"Why don't you spend your winters on the French Riviera like most successful writers do?"

"I'm afraid you'll have to go back to driving a cab for the Christmas season, Willoughby, or else Santa Claus won't come to our house this year."

"If that guy is a literary lion, then I must have forgotten what a mouse looks like."

"He went to the book store for an autographing session, and all the people who had bought his book showed up and demanded their money back."

"Why don't you write a book on how to be a success, Willoughby? The market should be ripe for a good fairy tale—that is, if it's funny enough."

Grumman Nixes Pact

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP) — Grumman Aerospace Corp. says it will not fulfill a contract option and build 48 more F14 Tomcat jet fighters for the Navy unless the contract terms are renegotiated.

The company stated its position Monday after the Navy announced that it was exercising its option to buy the planes at no increase in price over the terms of a 1969 contract.

Noting that it already has lost about $1 million on each of the 86 swing-wing supersonic F14s ordered so far, Grumman said it had told the Navy that it "refused to proceed under the option."

The actions set the stage for a showdown between the Department of Defense and a major aerospace manufacturer over the question of who must pay for cost overruns in such contracts.

It set up the possibility of a court fight of an appeal by Grumman to Congress for relief, such as that provided the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in its troubles with the C5A transport plane.

President To Have Peace With Congress?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says Congress will "extend the olive branch" to President Nixon in the coming session because of what may be unprecedented goodwill.

The Massachusetts Democrat made the statement Monday night in an address to a $500-per-couple fund-raising dinner in honor of Eugene L. Wyman, a fund-raiser for the Democratic party.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa,

I saw you at your little house in front of Murphy's. You sure are funny!

I already told you what I wanted for Christmas but I'll tell you again. I want a Gabbigale doll, a cash register and a piano. I want a little piano so you can carry it.

Miss Susan Jean Cline, David Brindle Repeat Vows

MRS. DAVID EUGENE BRINDLE

Miss Susan Jean Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Hartley Cline, Ashville, and Mr. David Eugene Brindle, son of Mrs. Frank Brindle, Kannapolis, N.C., and the late Mr. Frank Brindle, were united in marriage 4 p.m. Nov. 25th.

Dr. J. Walter Martin performed the double ring ceremony in Temple Baptist Church, Newport News, Va., before the altar adorned with arrangements of white spider mums. Two nine branch candelabra at either side completed the decorations.

A program of music preceding the wedding was played by Mrs. Danny Bush, organist. Included in the solos bv Mr. Stan Hicks, vocalist, were "The Greatest Of These Is Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a candelite peau faille and point de Venice lace formal length gown. The fitted bodice featured a high lace collar and tapered sleeves with deep ruffles of lace. The A-line skirt gathered softly to the back to form a full court train. A circlet of lace accents was at the waistline and the hemline and train were edged with a wide bank of matching lace. An elbow length veil of candlelite silk illusion fell from a peau cap accented with lace and pearls. The bride carried an arrangement of yellow roses surrounded by white roses with ivy streamers.

Mrs. Thomas G. Cline was matron of honor for her sister-in-law. She wore a long full skirt of polished cotton with a flowered print in autumn colors. The bodice of creme crepe was fashioned with long full sleeves, three buttoned cuffs and a high mandarin collar. She wore an avacado green satin bow at the waist and green Dior bow headpiece with tulle veiling. She carried a single long stemmed yellow rose with greenery and an avacado bow.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Ritchie, sister of the groom, Marion, Va. and Miss Joni Ward, cousin of the bride, Ashville. They were gowned as the honor attendant wearing gold satin bows at the waist and gold Dior headpieces with tulle veiling. They carried single yellow roses with greenery and gold bows. All the attendants wore gold crosses, gifts from the bride.

Best man was Mr. Larry Williams, Newport News, Va. Seating the guests were Mr. Thomas Cline, brother of the bride, Hampton, Va.; Mr. James Ritchie, brother-in-law of the groom, Marion, Va. and Mr. Royal Burns, Newport News, Va.

Mrs. Cline selected for her daughter's wedding a blue velveteen A-line dress with long fitted sleeves and madarin neckline. Mrs. Brindle wore an apricot colored dress with long straight sleeves and rounded collar. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony in the social hall of the church. The tables were decorated with arrangments of white spider mums and autumn colored straw flower bouquets. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with the traditional bride and groom.

Hostesses were Mrs. Andrew Ward, aunt of the bride, Ashville; Mrs. Jack Polic, Newport News, Va.; Mrs. Guy Cline, Ashville and Mrs. Larry Williams, Newsport News.

For the wedding trip to Jamaica, the bride wore a navy blue dress and coat ensemble, trimmed in white. Her corsage was of miniature yellow rosebuds and her jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. The couple now resides at 15 Frances Drive, Newport News, Va.
Va.

The bride is a graduate of Teays Valley High School and Grant Hospital School of Nursing in Columbus. She is employed as a registered nurse on the medical-surgical unit of Riverside Hospital, Newport News, Va.

Mr. Brindle attended Gardner-Webb Junior College, Boiling Springs, N.C. and graduated from North Carolina State University in the College of Civil Engineering. He is currently employed by Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. as senior engineer.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cline, Glenn and Ruth Ann; Miss Doris Cline, Mrs. Alice Purcell all of Ashville, Ohio; Miss Sandy Humphries, North Carolina and Master Johnny Ritchie, Marion, Va

Blue Star Mothers Yule Dinner Held

Attending the festive event were: Mrs. Emma Ankrom, Mrs. Olive Hettinger, Mrs. Aurdy Crawford, Mrs. Hazel Mowery, Mrs. Ethel Lane, Mrs. Grace Streitenberger, Mrs. Florence Russell, Mrs. Virgil Frances, Mrs. Evelyn Pontious and two guests, Mrs. Donna Salyers and Mrs. Monica Salyers.

A roundtable discussion concerned a picnic to be held for veterans of the Chillicothe V.A. Hospital this summer. The New Year open house will be held Jan. 1st, in the recreation hall at the hospital.

The next regular meeting will be the second Thursday of January.

Guild 49 Sets Party

Berger Hospital Guild 49 will meet 6 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Richard Jeffries, 566 Mowrer Road. From there they will go to the Bavarian House in German Village for a Christmas party and gift exchange by secret sisters.

Caldwell Family Attends Annual Candy Cane Ball

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, Route 1, Lockbourne were in attendance at the ninth annual Candy Cane Charity Ball, sponsored by the Women's Service Board of Grant Hospital, Saturday evening in the Presidential Ballroom of the Neil House. The theme for this gala affair was "A Trip To The Moon" coinciding with that of the three astronauts manning Apollo 17.

Space flight enroute included: reception and cocktails at 7 p.m., art exhibit by John A. Ruthven, noted American wild-life artist, and music by the Duke Jenkins Trio. Following the 8 p.m. dinner guests dance to the sounds of rhythm and brass, "The Best Sound Around" from 10 until 12:30.

Included in the moon decorations were 25 lifesize angels floating freely, suspended from the crystal chandeliers.

Honorary chairmen for the evening were Miss Laurie Lea Shaefer, Miss America of 1972 of Bexley, and her fiance, John Lurie. They also emceed the evening program, presenting distinguished guests, awards and entertainment by the Grandview High School Choral Group in a sophisticated Christmas and holiday program.

Guests of the Caldwells were their two daughters and families Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Renner of Zanesville, Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Hawley Jr. and granddaughters, Mrs. David Fergus and Mrs. Helen Hawley, all of Upper Arlington.

Mrs. Caldwell received recognition as one of the six top salespersons for the ad book program.

Christmas Season Welcomed By Class

The Christmas season was gaily welcomed when Mrs. Daivid Whaley recently entertained Westminster Bible Class in her home on Dartmouth Drive. The decorations and recorded musical selections made a cheerful background for the annual gift exchange among the members conducted by Mrs. C. F. Hott.

The meeting opened with "The Lord's Prayer." The president, Mrs. Beryl Stevenson, and Miss Elizabeth Stevenson read the Christmas story from the gospel of St. Luke.

During the business session donations from individual members were noted, and it was voted to contribute to the Deacon's Fund for their Christmas giving through the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Ruth Downing invited the group to her home for the February meeting. There will be no meeting in January.

Mrs. Whaley told a Christmas story, "What Does It Matter?" treating of the environmental problems of ghetto children.

Mrs. Whaley served refreshments from a festive table lighted by candles. She was assisted by Mrs. Hott. Miss Ethel Kiger presided at the punch bowl.

Christmas Party Event Of Monday

The 55 Club held its annual Christmas party Monday evening with dinner at the Wardell Party Home. Frosted glass goblets containing bayberry candles were at each place setting, gifts of the hostess, Mrs. John Moore

Games were played and gifts exchanged. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jerry Walters, Mrs. Gene Hanson, Mrs. Marion Sines and Mrs. Evelyn Gumm.

Fad Diets And Nutrition Program Topic For Nurses

Susan Cable, Nutrition Consultant with the Ohio Department of Health, presented the program for the November meeting of the Pickaway County Registered Nurses Association.

Mrs. Cable has a B. S. in Home Economics and a M. S. in Foods and Nutrition from California State University. Mrs. Cable's talk covered fad diets, health foods and many aspects of food and nutrition. She stated there are many people in the field but few legitimate nutritionists.

A study conducted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare showed that people in the United States are well educated but make poor medical judgments. This poor health practice includes trial and error and self diagnosis.

Food fadism originated many years ago, but boomed in the 1950's. The American public had the money to indulge in food fads and people were looking and ready for a miracle. Young people, especially, are susceptible to food fads. Mrs. Cable stated that 50 per cent - 80 per cent of human ails will cure themselves. Therefore, people believing food faddists cured them, sang their praises. The pattern of food faddists had been to ignore facts.

Three-fourths of the public believe extra vitamins will provide more energy while vitamins actually have no energy value. The Better Business Bureau has received many complaints about false, misleading claims concerning vitamins. Good Nutrition involves consuming a little of everything in the basic four. Elimination of one group of foods is bad.

Following the program, a business meeting was conducted by Elaine Bowman, president. The December meeting will be held at the home of Paula Compher. Members desiring a child's name for the Christmas exchange are asked to call Tommy Kirkpatrick at 474-4801. Refreshments were served by co-hostesses Mary Walters and Ruth Hukill.

Mrs. Cable has a B. S. in Home Economics and a M. S. in Foods and Nutrition from California State University. Mrs. Cable's talk covered fad diets, health foods and many aspects of food and nutrition. She stated there are many people in the field but few legitimate nutritionists.

A study conducted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare showed that people in the United States are well educated but make poor medical judgments. This poor health practice includes trial and error and self diagnosis.

Food fadism originated many years ago, but boomed in the 1950's. The American public had the money to indulge in food fads and people were looking and ready for a miracle. Young people, especially, are susceptible to food fads. Mrs. Cable stated that 50 per cent - 80 per cent of human ails will cure themselves. Therefore, people believing food faddists cured them, sang their praises. The pattern of food faddists had been to ignore facts.

Three-fourths of the public believe extra vitamins will provide more energy while vitamins actually have no energy value. The Better Business Bureau has received many complaints about false, misleading claims concerning vitamins. Good Nutrition involves consuming a little of everything in the basic four. Elimination of one group of foods is bad.

Following the program, a business meeting was conducted by Elaine Bowman, president. The December meeting will be held at the home of Paula Compher. Members desiring a child's name for the Christmas exchange are asked to call Tommy Kirkpatrick at 474-4801. Refreshments were served by co-hostesses Mary Walters and Ruth Hukill.

Church Women Hold Christmas Party

A one o'clock dinner meeting and Christmas party at the Ashville Coffee Shop provided a delightful afternoon for 25 members and two guests of the Hedges Chapel United Methodist Women on Thursday. The dinner was a result of a year-long contest between Mrs. Roy Frazier's and Mrs. Martin Cromley's teams. Table appointments and favors were in keeping with the holiday season.

Mrs. David Dill opened the meeting with a Christmas poem. Mrs. Charles White reported that 41 treats had been prepared for two nursing homes in Circleville and six boxes were packed for boys in the service.

The group voted to give a donation of money to the Worthington United Methodist Children's Home to help with their Christmas Projects.

Members drew names for a secret pal for next year when they are to do something unusual or special for their pal's birthday.

Miss Helen Coon closed the meeting with devotions on the anniversary of Pearl Harbor and thoughts for the Christmas season.

State Board Urges Equal School Support

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education has adopted a recommendation designed to equalize financial support for the state's school districts.

The board Monday said the equalizing process may have to extend over a period of years before the long-range goal could be reached. And, in its suggestions to the General Assembly, it offered no specifics on how it wanted the legislature to achieve the goal.

The board also asked legislation to upgrade urban education programs and special education for mentally and physically handicapped children.

Also recommended was a $40 million appropriation to assist school districts, limited by nine per cent bonded indebtedness,

Also recommended was a $40 million appropriation to assist school districts, limited by nine per cent bonded indebtedness, in providing needed classrooms. The board said no new building assistance funds have been appropriated since 1965.

An additional $10 million should be made available for small, poorer districts to reorganize for efficiency, economy and improvement of education quality, the board said.

Other board recommendations were:

—Additional expansion of vocational classes for high school juniors and seniors, with a request for $130 million in state-matching funds for these facilities.

—A requirement that all school districts offer kindergarten classes and legislation to allow standards to be set for preschool education.

—State funding of in-service education for school teachers and administrators.

—Centralized bus bidding to save an estimated $2 million annually.

—Restoration of full-funding for special learning experiences to disadvantaged children. The previous $200 per pupil rate decreased to $155 per pupil because of a raise in the number receiving Aid to Dependent Children benefits.

Coffee-Drinking Drunks Said Worst Menace

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Keystone Automobile Club says it may not be such a hot idea to make the one for the road a cup of coffee.

"A driver who is drunk — and knows it — can frequently get home safely by compensating for his condition," says Roy D. Hensahw, Keystone's safety director. "However, the driver who is drunk and think's he's sober because he had a cup of coffee is a real menace. He makes no compensation for his condition whatsoever."

Sidney Plant Blast Injures 1 Workman

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—It is expected to take several weeks to repair damage caused Tuesday by an explosion at the Wagner Division plant here of General Housewares Corp. Authorities, meanwhile, are trying to determine the cause of the blast.

Arson Major Problem In Buckeye State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fire setting — for fun, profit or revenge— has nearly doubled in Ohio in the past two years.

"And the sad part of it is, less than half of all arson is ever investigated," said Gene Jewell, head of the arson division of the State Fire Marshal's office.

Jewell hopes that statistics will light a fire under state and federal officials in charge of doling out money for alw enforcement agencies.

"The more arsonists who go unprosecuted, the more arson will be attempted and the higher fire insurance premiums will be for everyone," he said.

Ohio's arson figures parallel national statistics which show 300 per cent increase in the number of arson cases in the past eight years.

Arson statistics for Ohio did not exist until Jewell's office a year ago began monitoring reports of the state's 1,258 fire stations

Now, Jewell can report:

—In 1970, out of 131,238 fires reported, nearly 8,000 were determined to be arson, nearly 2,000 others labeled "suspicious" and at least 7,000 others left "undetermined," — "a high proportion of which has to be arson," said Jewell.

—Between January and August, 1971, 121,787 fires reported, with nearly 8,000 deliberately set, 1,500 "suspicious" and nearly 9,000 "undetermined."

Damage from arson and suspected arson ran $26 million in 1970, and $30 million in the first eight months of 1971.

"Projections from these figures give us at least a 100 per cent increase in arson since 1970, and probably more," Jewell said.

Bombings are on the increase, too, with 58 recorded in 1970 and 56 in the first half of 1971.

Accurate statistics after August 1971 haven't been compiled, Jewell said.

Fire departments and insurance companies make damage estimates— but nobody records the number of lives lost in deliberate fires and bombings.

"But I'll tell you, there's been more murder (as the result of fires and bombs) this year than I've ever seen before."

Increased political and labor activity were main contributors to the bombing increase, Jewell said.

"This kind of activity has been gradually creeping up the past couple of years. As the result, we're still developing investigation techniques for bombings . . . we're not too happy about our conviction rate," he said.

Arson is "the most difficult crime to prove," says Jewell. "In most cases the evidence simply burns up."

Then, it's a matter of "plain old detective work—" establishing motives, following leads.

"In this business we have to know everything there is to know about fire, and everything there is to know about criminals," said Jewell.

He said there are about 125 arson investigators in Ohio, most on the arson squads of large metropolitan police departments — 9 in his own department.

"We're the only law enforcement agency with quasi-judicial powers," he said. "We carry our own subpenas with us, and can make arrests and take sworn testimony on the spot . . . not even the F.B.I. can do that."

Bilking insurance companies is a big motive for arson, "and organized crime is definitely a factor" in burning for profit, Jewell said.

Defrauding an insurance company through arson carries a penalty of one to three years in prison, but such sentences are few and far between.

"It's difficult — very difficult — to prove," said state insurance investigator Carlton F. Miller.

If the loss is costly enough, insurance companies will hire their own investigators, "but usually they just go through the GAB—the General Adjustment Bureau," Miller said.

"If a guy has a clean record and files a fire claim, he's usually home free. But if he's been in trouble before, well, it might be more difficult."

Of over 17,500 arsons and suspected arsons in 1970, less than 3,000 were investigated by experts, Jewell said.

"Let's face it, you reach a saturation level in investigating cases. One investigator can only do so much."

Nearly "90 per cent" of all state firefighters are volunteers, and although law requires they receive training, investigation of suspected arson is often inadequate.

Unless loss of life is involved, police departments don't take much action either, he said.

Arson investigators, and national organizations of fire marshals and fire chiefs have teamed up to create a computerized information center in an effort to "modernize" fire-fighting-investigation efforts.

"The center will be invaluable in establishing patterns of fires, locating suspects, and tracing possible motives," Jewell said.

The state has established an arson laboratory in the Columbus Technical Institute.

"Notoriously, police are the benefactors of federal funds, with only a small pitance going to fire service. But there are bills now in Congress to change all that," he said.

Ohio boasts the nation's oldest fire marshal's office and arson laws, and serves as a model for most other states, Sewell said. But modern — law enforcement procedures, especially keeping accurate facts and figures, is still lacking in the state.

"It's the bookkeeping that produces the bread-and-butter money," Jewell said.

"We're trying to find out the truth about arson in the state of Ohio." He paused, "and though it may not make us free from fires, it will sure make more people aware of the problem."

Miranda Paroled

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ernest A. Miranda, whose 1963 kidnaping-rape conviction was overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court in one of its most celebrated rulings, has been granted a parole from State Prison.

Miranda, 32, was sentenced to 20 to 30 years for the kidnaping and rape and a concurrent 20 to 25 years for an unrelated robbery in which he took $8 from a woman at knifepoint.

The high court reversed the kidnap-rape conviction in 1966 on ground that his confession was inadmissible as evidence because he had not been advised of his right to remain silent.

The decision led to what has become known as the "Miranda warning," a procedure in which all suspects are advised of their rights by police officers at the time of their arrest.

Miranda was retried and sentenced again on both charges.

Poor Ventilation, Gas Bring Nausea

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — A faulty ventilation system and random mixtures of gases has been blamed for the wave of mysterious employe illnesses at the North American Rockwell Corp. plant here.

The National Institute for Occupational Health and Safety (NIOSH) reported Monday that its investigation failed to pinpoint one culprit among the gases. The federal agency suggested that the illnesses probably resulted from the mixture of gases that built up in the ventilation system.

NIOSH entered the investigation in September. The mysterious illnesses began last April and affected nearly 100 employes at the reinforced plastics plant. Most complained of nausea and dizziness.

Arson Major Problem In Buckeye State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fire setting — for fun, profit or revenge— has nearly doubled in Ohio in the past two years.

"And the sad part of it is, less than half of all arson is ever investigated," said Gene Jewell, head of the arson division of the State Fire Marshal's office.

Jewell hopes that statistics will light a fire under state and federal officials in charge of doling out money for alw enforcement agencies.

"The more arsonists who go unprosecuted, the more arson will be attempted and the higher fire insurance premiums will be for everyone," he said.

Ohio's arson figures parallel national statistics which show 300 per cent increase in the number of arson cases in the past eight years.

Arson statistics for Ohio did not exist until Jewell's office a year ago began monitoring reports of the state's 1,258 fire stations

Now, Jewell can report:

—In 1970, out of 131,238 fires reported, nearly 8,000 were determined to be arson, nearly 2,000 others labeled "suspicious" and at least 7,000 others left "undetermined," — "a high proportion of which has to be arson," said Jewell.

—Between January and August, 1971, 121,787 fires reported, with nearly 8,000 deliberately set, 1,500 "suspicious" and nearly 9,000 "undetermined."

Damage from arson and suspected arson ran $26 million in 1970, and $30 million in the first eight months of 1971.

"Projections from these figures give us at least a 100 per cent increase in arson since 1970, and probably more," Jewell said.

Bombings are on the increase, too, with 58 recorded in 1970 and 56 in the first half of 1971.

Accurate statistics after August 1971 haven't been compiled, Jewell said.

Fire departments and insurance companies make damage estimates— but nobody records the number of lives lost in deliberate fires and bombings.

"But I'll tell you, there's been more murder (as the result of fires and bombs) this year than I've ever seen before."

Increased political and labor activity were main contributors to the bombing increase, Jewell said.

"This kind of activity has been gradually creeping up the past couple of years. As the result, we're still developing investigation techniques for bombings . . . we're not too happy about our conviction rate," he said.

Arson is "the most difficult crime to prove," says Jewell. "In most cases the evidence simply burns up."

Then, it's a matter of "plain old detective work—" establishing motives, following leads.

"In this business we have to know everything there is to know about fire, and everything there is to know about criminals," said Jewell.

He said there are about 125 arson investigators in Ohio, most on the arson squads of large metropolitan police departments — 9 in his own department.

"We're the only law enforcement agency with quasi-judicial powers," he said. "We carry our own subpenas with us, and can make arrests and take sworn testimony on the spot . . . not even the F.B.I. can do that."

Defrauding an insurance company through arson carries a penalty of one to three years in prison, but such sentences are few and far between.

"It's difficult — very difficult — to prove," said state insurance investigator Carlton F. Miller.

If the loss is costly enough, insurance companies will hire their own investigators, "but usually they just go through the GAB—the General Adjustment Bureau," Miller said.

BUSY DAY ONE DISH DINNER

Even a few extra minutes are welcome during the Holiday season. This dinner practically prepares itself, giving you extra time for other activities.

2 Tbsp. Gaylord Butter
1 Roasting Chicken
Salt and Pepper
Monosodium Glutamate
1 Medium Turnip
3 Small Carrots
3 Green Onions

1 Stalk Celery
1 Slice Bacon
1 Small Sprig Parsley
1½ Cups Quick Rice
1 Large Tomato
Lemon Juice
Thyme

Melt butter in roasting pan. Dust chicken inside and out with salt, pepper and MSG. Peel turnip, cut onions (tops included), celery, carrots and turnips into bite-size pieces; dice bacon; tear parsley into coarse flowerettes. Place vegetables and bacon loosely inside chicken. Place chicken in roasting pan, breast side up. Roast in 375 degree oven, uncovered, for about 1 hour, or until done. About 15 minutes before chicken is done, prepare rice according to package directions. Slice tomato and season lightly with lemon juice and thyme.

BUSY DAY ONE DISH DINNER

Even a few extra minutes are welcome during the Holiday season. This dinner practically prepares itself, giving you extra time for other activities.

- 2 Tbsp. Gaylord Butter
- 1 Roasting Chicken
- Salt and Pepper
- Monosodium Glutamate
- 1 Medium Turnip
- 3 Small Carrots
- 3 Green Onions
- 1 Stalk Celery
- 1 Slice Bacon
- 1 Small Sprig Parsley
- 1½ Cups Quick Rice
- 1 Large Tomato
- Lemon Juice
- Thyme

Melt butter in roasting pan. Dust chicken inside and out with salt, pepper and MSG. Peel turnip, cut onions (tops included), celery, carrots and turnips into bite-size pieces; dice bacon; tear parsley into coarse flowerettes. Place vegetables and bacon loosely inside chicken. Place chicken in roasting pan, breast side up. Roast in 375 degree oven, uncovered, for about 1 hour, or until done. About 15 minutes before chicken is done, prepare rice according to package directions. Slice tomato and season lightly with lemon juice and thyme.

Santa and the ICE KING

by Lucrece Beale

SYNOPSIS: After a long journey across the ice sea, Oonik has finally reached Santa Land. Much to his dismay, he finds Santa suffering from the Ice King's wrath as much as the Eskimos of his own village.

CHAPTER SIX

A TALK WITH SANTA

Oonik ran down to the barn. The door was blocked by snow. He knew someone was inside because he could hear voices and every now and then the tap of a reindeer's hoof.

Oonik went around to the side of the barn. There he found a ladder leading up to an enromous window high above. He had never seen a ladder before. He climbed it fearfully. when he was near the top he looked down and when he saw Keotuk way below he grew so dizzy he almost fell. Shutting his eyes. he went up the rest of the ladder and climbed in the window.

He found himself at the top of a vast pile of hay. At the bottom of the pile was Santa Claus. He knew it was Santa because he was fat and round and wore a red suit and had silver whiskers. But he didn't look gay and merry the way Oonik had always pictured him. He looked sad and worried.

He was talking to a crooked-legged dwarf with large, flappy ears and the two of them were gazing unhappily at eight skinny reindeer.

"It's no use, Tweedleknees," Santa SAID 'I'm going to let them go. I can't keep them here to starve."

"If only they'd eat meat," grumbled the crooked-legged dwarf. "Or cookies, Or vegetables. Or something."

"They want moss," murmurred Santa Claus. "They can't understand why summer has not come. I'll turn them loose. They can go somewhere where there's bound to be summer in August as it should be."

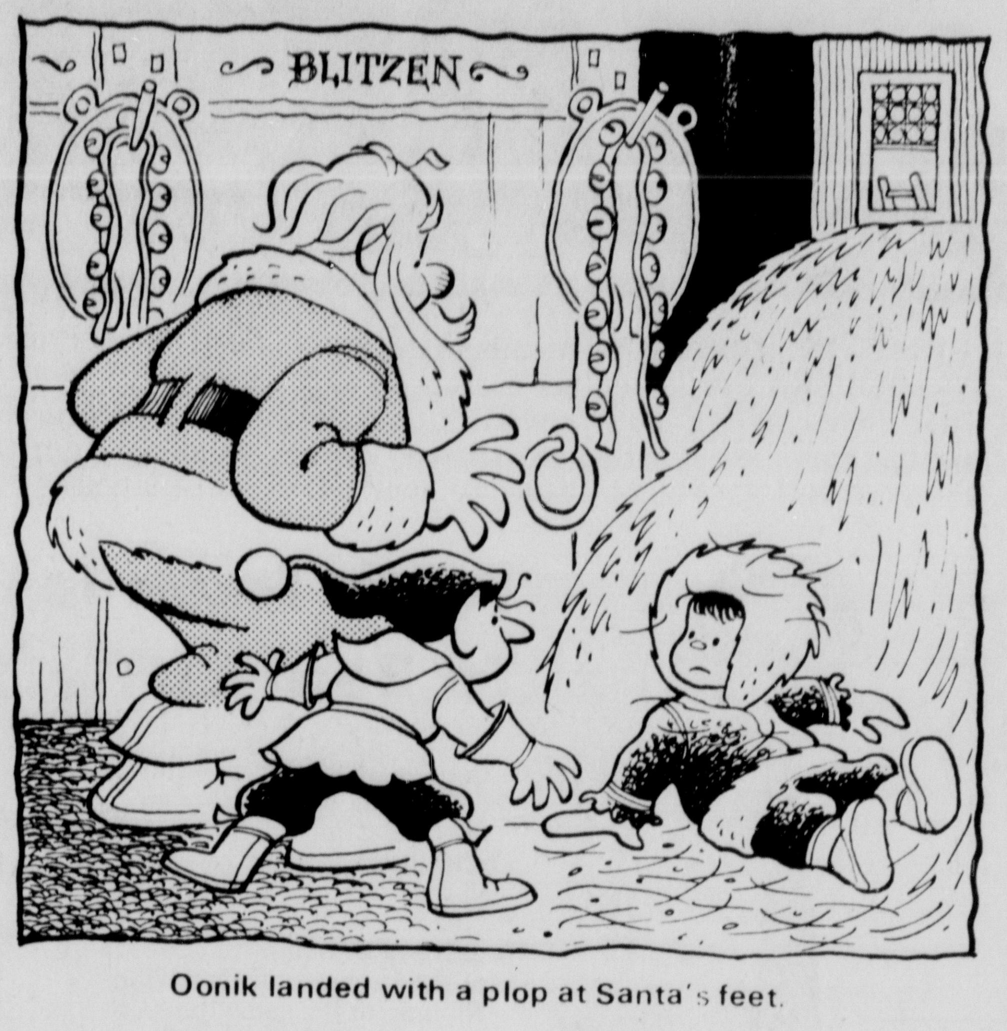
"But what will you do when Christmas comes?" exclaimed Tweedleknees. "With no reindeer how will you make your rounds?"

"I don't now," Santa shook his head. "Perhaps there won't be Christmas any more. Who knows? Anyway, I'm turning them loose."

We'll never get the door open, protested Tweedleknees. "It's blocked by snow."

"They can fly out the window," replied Santa. "That is if they still have the strength to fly."

"Come now," he said gently, patting the reindeer. "Fly away and find some summer feeding ground.



Oonik landed with a plop at Santa's feet.

The reindeer looked around uncertainly and then, tapping their hooves three times on the floor, they flew gracefully upward straight to the window where Oonik sat.

"Wait, wait!" cried Oonik rising to his feet. "Don't let them go!"

But it was too late. The reindeer brushed past him, one by one, into the sky.

Then Santa called out, "Who on earth are you?"

Oonik slid to the bottom of the pile of hay. He landed with a plop at Santa's feet. "I am Ooike the Eskimo boy," he said. "And I came to you because my people are being destroyed by the Ice King's anger."

"Ah," said Santa, "so are we, my boy. And it is the same everywhere. Only yesterday I had a letter from a child who said that though it was August she had not yet had a chance to use the bathing suit I brought her last Christmas. Another child wrote that he was still using his ice skates I brought to him. So you see, the whole world is cold."

"But you must stop the Ice King!" cried Oonik.

"I?" said Santa.

"Of course! You are the most powerful, the bravest, and the wisest one on earth. You are the only one who can stop the Ice King."

Santa pulled his pipe from his pocket and slowly filled it. "Tell me, he said. "How shall I stop the Ice King?"

"Why," said Oonik simply, "by going to him and telling him to stop."

Now the crooked-legged Tweedleknees growled, "What nonsence! If Santa went to see the Ice King who knows what might happen to him!"

"I'll go, too," protested Oonik. "I-I could help!"

"You!" snorted Tweedleknees.

"Hush, Tweedleknees," said Santa. Then he looked for a long time into Oonik's eyes. at last he said, "Very good son. We will go."

Thieu Bolsters Political Status

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu is planning to reorganize his administration and label it the "National Solidarity Government" in efforts to broaden his political base, official government sources said Monday.

Thieu is working on to gain a strong hand in a political struggle with the Viet Cong over the political shape of South Vietnam after an anticipated cease-fire.

The sources said Thieu held consultations with both nationalist and moderate opposition political leaders in shaping the new government.

Detention Suit Testimony Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Testimony was to resume today in U.S. District Court here on a $1 million civil rights suit filed against law enforcement officers by the wife of convicted killer Oliver Mills.

Mrs. Mills is contending that Jackson County Sheriff Hile Fyffe, Athens Police Chief Charles Cochran and two deputies illegally detained her while her husband was being sought following the fatal shooting of Vinton County Sheriff Harold Steele.

Fyffe testified Tuesday he knew Mrs. Mills was being held, but he did not know how she got to the Vinton County jail or who brought her there.

Toy Company Hit By Lawsuit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A $1 million lawsuit has been filed against Louis Marx & Co. Inc. of New York and a Cleveland motorist.

The action was filed Monday in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court by attorneys representing 6-year-old Michael Rupp.

The suit charged that the youth was riding a "Wild Rider" built by Marx and that the toy carried him into the street where he was struck by a car.

The suit said the toy was negligent in design because it is a free-wheeling vehicle without any steering or control mechanism. The suit said the youth was unconscious for four weeks after the mishap and suffered "permanent and disabling injuries" in the accident.

The motorist named in the suit was John D. Dessoffy.

Chillicothe Paper Is Commended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A resolution commending the Chillicothe Gazette for becoming a national historic site in journalism has been adopted unanimously by the Ohio Senate.

The resolution says in part that "for 172 years, the Gazette has brought unbiased, current, and well-presented news coverage to the people of Chillicothe, and such continuous service signifies its journalistic success and can be considered, indeed, a tribute to the value of a newspaper to any community and its people. . ."

Sen. Harry Armstrong, R-17 Logan, sponsored the resolution.

Central Ohio Blue Cross Rate Hike OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Insurance is looking for a way to appeal the court approval Tuesday of a $1.25 million rate increase for Blue Cross of Central Ohio.

Franklin County Common Pleas Court Judge Craig Wright reversed an earlier departmental ruling against the increase. BCCO President Howard Franz said he was "mighty glad."

"Hopefully, we can put the increase into effect by Feb. 1," Franz said.

Insurance Director Kenneth DeShetler said he was "unhappy" about the ruling and added that state attorneys were already examining the possibility of appealing it.

The 20 per cent increase will affect about 27,500 direct-pay subscribers in 29 Ohio counties. Each will pay from $3 to $5 more each month to Blue Cross.

Deshetler, who refused to grant the increase after public hearings last August, had argued that Blue Cross should be doing more to keep the cost of health care down.

He also criticized a $5,000 raise that Franz received and another $14,000 used in a Blue Cross promotional campaign.

The court apparently rejected DeShelter's contention that these expenditures had something to do with the rate hike request, but the director said it supported "in part" his belief that insurance companies ought to help curb rising hospital costs.

Blue Cross claimed it was substaining "substantial losses" in its non-group contracts— "Over $750,000" in the first quarter of 1972.

"In winning this decision, we stress our pledge to contain our costs and help keep hospitalization down," Franz said.

Pearl S. Buck Near Hospital Release

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Pearl S. Buck, the Nobel Prizewinning author, will be released from the hospital this week.

Miss Buck, 88, who lives in nearby Danby, entered the hospital Sept. 24 and underwent gall-bladder surgery five days later.

200 Couples Find Selves Never Legally Divorced

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Two hundred couples who thought they were divorced are not.

And after up to 40 years since their supposedly legal separations, they are going to get a chance to reconsider.

It all stems from a fee-collection method used by V. L. Hash, a lawyer who picked up considerable walk-in business at his office across the street from the courthouse.

One of the town's best known attorneys, he is known to have filed many divorce cases without receiving the filing fee.

But his niece, Virginia Hash, herself an attorney, recalled Monday that he always cautioned his clients:

"You're not divorced until this decree is filed and it's not going to be until I'm paid."

That collection method was used widely in the Depression, his niece added, but is frowned upon by the legal profession today.

Hash died six years ago, and Miss Hash was named a coexecutor of his estate.

Going through his papers, she found 200 divorce decrees which had been signed by judges but not filed with the clerk of the court and made final. Some date back to the 1920s.

To clear up the estate, she proposed to Superior Court Judge Laurens Henderson that he file all 200 nunc pro tunc — in other words, doing today what should have been done yesterday.

The judge said fine but certain legal requirements would have to be complied with first.

For one thing, the plan would have to be approved by the state Supreme Court. Miss Hash filed a friendly appeal, and the court on Monday set a Jan. 2 hearing.

She will advertise once a week for four weeks in the Phoenix Gazette, Arizona Republican, Arizona Daily Star and Tucson Daily Citizen that Henderson has scheduled a Feb. 21 hearing. He felt use of the usual legal publications wasn't sufficient.

Listing all 200 couples by name, the advertisement will ask them to show cause why their divorce decrees should not be filed with the clerk of the court.

Should there be no objection, Henderson will file them and the separations will, finally, become legal.

In addition to the advertising costs, Miss Hash said, the estate will have to pay the $5-per-case filing fee for the 200 cases — $1,000.

"It was a rather expensive collection method," she said.

INVITATION TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the Pickaway County Commissioners in the Courthouse, Circleville, Ohio until 12:00 o'clock Noon, E.S.T. on the 27th day of December, 1972 and publicly opened and read at 1:30 P.M., E.S.T. the same day for the furnishing of labor, equipment and materials necessary to construct a ten unit aircraft hanger on the Grounds of the Pickaway County Veterans Memorial Airport.

Sealed bids to be in accordance with the specifications, and instructions on file and available at the Pickaway County Commissioners Office in said Courthouse during regular office hours. Each bid must be accompanied by an acceptance bid bond or certified check as set forth in "Instructions to Bidders" and filed in a sealed envelope marked "Aircraft Hanger Bid." The Pickaway County Airport Authority reserves the Right to reject any and all bids and any award will be made to the best bid according to Law.

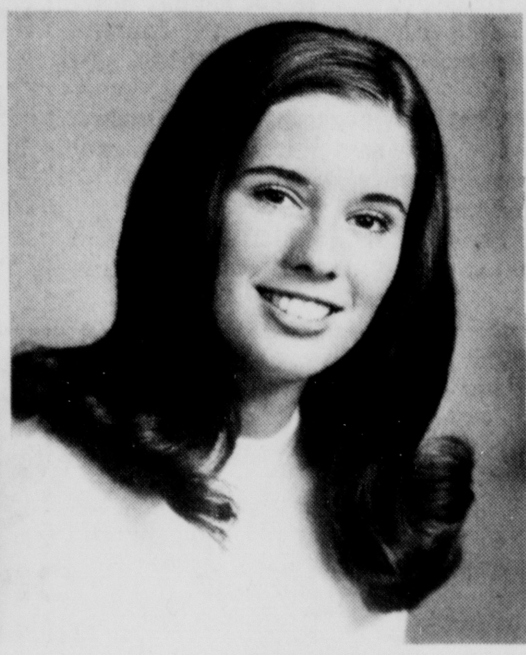
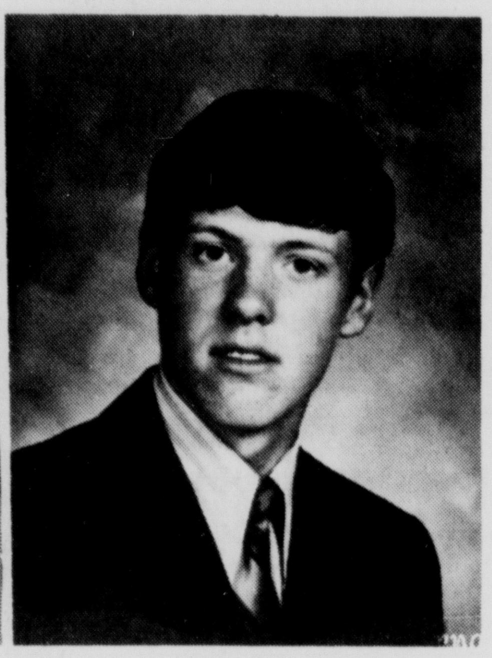
MIKE PETERSON



MELANIE BLISS



SCOTT SKINNER

The Mustang Country Staff has recently selected six senior students as Seniors of the Week.

At school, Diane is president of FTA, a member of the Science Club, a member of both the Echo Staff and annual staff, a majorette, and a participant in concert, marching, pep, and stage bands.

She has been a former member of the Latin Club, GAA, and Student Council. Diane is also very active in 4-H.

In her spare time, she enjoys reading and sewing. Next fall, Diane will be attending Ohio State University and majoring in secondary education.

Doug Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers, resides with his parents in Derby. He also is enrolled in the college prepratory course of study.

Doug has been a member of both the Latin Club and Science Club, and has also participated in vocal music. In listing his hobbies, Doug includes watching O.S.U. football and basketball and reading science fiction stories.

Doug plans to attend O.S.U. in the fall and major in some field of science.

Ann Hamric, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamric, lives in Williamsport and is enrolled in college prep courses.

Ann is an active member on the annual staff and the Echo Staff. She participates in the French Club, Drama Club, Pep Club, FNA, and Chorus.

She has previously been a secretary, treasurer, and president of FNA and a secretary of the Pep Club, and is presently the secretary of the Drama Club. Last year, Ann was chosen as an alternate to Buckeye Girls' State. She also participates in the United Methodist Youth Fellowship and American Legion Auxiliary Post 618.

Ann's hobbies in her spare time are reading, baking, collecting records, and listening to hillbilly jokes. After graduation, she plans to attend college and study to become a secondary English teacher.

Mike Peterson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peterson, resides in Derby and studies business courses. At school, he is active in baseball, basketball, football, and track. He also is a member of the Varsity W and the Drama Club. Pete lists his hobbies as hunting, fishing, swimming, and just having fun.

He plans to join the Air Force after graduation.

Melanie Bliss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irus Bliss, resides at Route 1, Orient and is enrolled in the college prep course of study.

She is a majorette in the marching band and also a member of the concert band and pep band. She has been a member of the Drama Club, French Club, and Student Council.

Last year Melanie was chosen as a delegate to participate in Buckeye Girls' State. She lists her interests as reading, cooking, and collecting stuffed animals. Melanie's future plans include becoming a medical technician.

Scott Skinner, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Skinner, resides at Route 2, Williamsport and studies college prep courses. His activities at school include being vice president of the FFA, and a member of the Varisty W.

Scott participated in Cross Country for two years, in track for two years, and in basketball for one year. He also is a member of 4-H, Farm Bureau Youth Council, and president of Atlanta UMYF. Scott's hobbies include hunting, trapping, judging horses, and most sports.

Billie Swank Lists Hiking As Hobby

BILLIE JO SWANK

Another addition to the Mustang corral is Billie Jo Swank, a junior. She resides with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Noland at Rt. 3, Orient.

Billy Jo participated in the Camping and Hiking Club at Marion Franklin High School. Before moving to Columbus she was a student at Circleville.

When asked to comment on Westfall Billy Jo said, "It's okay, but I like Circleville better."

Marshmallow Creme Fudge

3 cups sugar
1 cup MILNOT
1 7-oz. jar marshmallow creme
¾ stick margarine
1 12-oz. package chocolate chips
1 cup chopped nuts (optional)

Mix sugar, Milnot and margarine together and cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring frequently. Boil this mixture for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and stir in chocolate chips and marshmallow creme. Stir ingredients until mixture is creamy and smooth. (An electric mixer may be used.) Pour into buttered 9"x9" pan. Allow to cool, and cut as desired. Yield: approximately 2½ pounds.

NOTE: For a delightful change use butterscotch or caramel chips instead of chocolate chips.

With MILNOT, everything tastes creamier. Better for you too, because it's a blend of fat-free milk and pure vegetable oil. Even better for your budget! Next time, make it with MILNOT.

If cows could, they'd give MILNOT ®

ALAN GABRIEL
Teacher, Coach

New Coach Looks To Baseball

Mr. Alan Gabriel is a new teacher at Westfall. He comes to us from Zane Trace High School where he taught physics, chemistry and physical science.

Mr. Gabriel is a graduate of Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. He graduated with a B. A. in natural science and physical education. He also played varsity football for Case Western.

He did his student teaching at Gilmore Academy in Gate Mills.

At Westfall, Mr. Gabriel teaches biology, chemistry and advanced biology. He was assistant coach of the football team and will be the head baseball coach in the spring.

He says, "I am looking forward to working with a fine group of young men in the 1973 baseball season. With the returning lettermen and the underclassmen, we hope to maintain the fine tradition of baseball here at Westfall."

His hobbies include hunting, fishing, traveling, football, baseball and all indoor sports.

Mr. Gabriel says, "I find the kids well-dressed, well-groomed and attentive. I feel it a pleasure to teach at Westfall."

Frosh Team Is First To Beat Little Tigers

Once again the victory bell rang for the freshman basketball team.

On Dec. 5, in addition to defeating Circleville 38 to 36 in a battle for the lead, they accomplished another first for the Scarlet and Gray. They are the first freshman team from Westfall to beat the freshman of Circleville.

Throughout the game the score was tight, with neither team having a larger lead than 6 points. Bill Hamman led the Mustang team work to a 2-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

With less than two minutes remaining Beatty was fouled and went to the line sinking both shots to tie the score. The Tigers worked their way to the basket only to get a traveling violation called. The little Mustangs stalled the ball for the last seconds when Hamman was fouled.

Scoring for Westfall were Brad Beatty 13; Bill Hamman 11; Randy Hildenbrand 8; Kevin Reid 4; Jeff Karshner 2; Others playing were Terry Hanson and Greg Vanrey.

GOOD LUCK in the remaining games!

Omit Important Football Players

In our recent article concerning the Sports Banquet held at Westfall High School, two football players' names were accidentally omitted from the list of those players receiving awards.

It was announced that Eric Schleich received an honor for being the Best Line-man during the football season. Randy Hildenbrand was honored with an award for showing skills as being the Most-Improved Player.

Anti-Castro Group Behind Explosions

WASHINGTON (AP) — An anti-Castro organization calling itself the Cuban Secret Government says it placed the bombs that damaged a travel agency and three offices which handle packages for Cuba.

The explosions occurred Monday in Montreal, New York and Miami. There were no injuries, but the organization warned of further attacks against persons and firms who do business with Cuba.

"To do business with the Communist tyranny that oppresses Cuba means to recognize them as the legitimate government," a letter received at The Associated Press Washington bureau said.

It said there should be "no more packages for Cuba" except for medicines.

It added: "If the betraying business continues, our attacks will be felt by the publications that advertise the agencies dedicated to this unpatriotic activities.

"Also we will then attack the persons that work in this places, as well as the owners." An English translation accompanied the Spanish text of the letter.

Mistletoe Ball Set For Dec. 20

Westfall's Mistletoe Ball was recently scheduled to take place on Dec. 20 from 8-11:30 p.m. at Westfall High School.

The dance is annually sponsored by the Varsity W. The members' mothers will be decorating for this event.

Varsity W members are presently forming committees to organize the Christmas dance, and setting up committees that are responsible for providing the refreshments, decorations, and entertainment.

Eleven Students Walk For CROP

Chuck Adams had the highest pledge which was $120. We are very proud of you, Chuck and everyone else that participated.

Rev.Chapin Speaks At Holiday Assembly

Rev. Chapin was the speaker at the Thanksgiving assembly held at Westfall on Nov. 22. The Westfall choir performed several numbers at the beginning and the end of the assembly.

The youth choir from the Five Points United Methodist Church also sang two numbers. They were accompanied by Rev. Chapin, who played the guitar.

Bell Loan Guarantee Approved By ODFC

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An application for a $1.2 million loan guarantee for the Bell Co., of Cuyahoga Falls has been approved by the Ohio Development Financing Commission.

Director David Sweet said Monday the ODFC approval will help the company create about 130 jobs in the area. The money is for land, building, and testing and grinding equipment to manufacture tires and aircraft machinery.

Ohio Solon Plans To Fight Equal Rights Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—William G. Batchelder, pipe-smoking state representative from Medina, is poised to join or perhaps lead a House fight against the womens' federal equal rights amendment— if it gets out of the Senate—and unless he gets answers to some legal questions. The 29-year-old attorney, now in his third House term, says the 22 states which have ratified the amendment so far may have "acted too hastily."

Batchelder last week requested, and State Government Committee Chairman Robert A. Manning, R-94 Akron, agreed to have the Legislative Service Commission look into some of the questions. The House committee will review the amendment if and when it comes over from the Senate where it was pulled back from a floor vote Dec. 6. Sponsors said they did not anticipate enough votes for Senate adoption at that time.

The Republican representative says he wants to know, among other things, what effect the amendment would have in the light of a myraid of anti-racial court decisions under U.S. Constitutional equal protection provisions. He noted they have included a ban against discriminating in public accomodations.

"Does this mean that the signs will come down from mens' and womens' rest rooms?", he asked. He said problems could arise if and when someone decides he or she has been discriminated against in such a situation. Then there would be a question of legal counsel which must be provided to indigents under a recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court. "These are only three of the questions that comes to my mind," Batchelder said.

While Manning agreed to ask the LSC to look into Batchelder's questions, the committee chairman indicated his mind is made up. "I'm going to vote for it," said Manning, adding the qualification "if it gets over here." Manning was defeated for reelection in the Nov. 7 balloting, and won't be around if the issue is put off until after the new legislature convenes the first of the year.

Newsmen, lobbyists, and others who sit out lengthy legislative caucuses and other closed meetings often wonder about floor recesses in the Senate, usually announced "for 15 minutes, more or less." Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, who presides over the Senate, explains "we operate on legislative time. A legislative minute is 60 legislative seconds."

After 30 years on the road selling mens' suits, Merrill Samuels finally opened what he had always wanted—an exclusive mens' shop, one that caters mostly to legislators and state government officials.

He had hardly set up in a hotel across the street from the statehouse, until his wife, Evy, moved in. She established a "just for women" counter in the front of the small store.

Women's lib? "I'm not one of them," she says.

State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens has indicated he doesn't plan to listen to everybody else on how he should run his next campaign for governor.

"I listened to the organization before," he said, "and you saw what happened. It's the first time I ever ran without working a campaign from the precinct level up."

Lukens, a Republican, was talking about his unsuccessful primary bid for governor in 1970. He plans another attempt in 1974.

"This time I'll run with my own organization," he said.

Oldtimers around the statehouse recall that is how James A. Rhodes became governor. After one setback, he established his own group and moved into office.

Rhodes could be a Lukens' challenger for the GOP Gubernatorial nomination.

Rep. Robert E. Netzley, the dissident Ohio Republican who dislikes some of his own colleagues almost as much as he dislikes Gov. John J. Gilligan, may be down but he is not out.

Netzley has interspersed his fights with Gilligan and House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess to take on the state income tax (a battle which he lost) and almost anything else he feels amounts to wasteful spending.

During the process, however, he has created many legislative friends, who admired his spunk. Many are Democrats.

Leaders in the new 110th General Assembly, which Democrats will control, thought highly enough of Netzley to seek his advice before naming chairmen to two committees upon which he now serves.

Netzley is vice-chairman of the House Finance Committee, a committee which he was, from a seniority position, in line to chair when the 109th convened.

His battles with Kurfess nixed the chairmanship job however. It went to Lloyd George Kerns.

Kurfess will be minority leader in the new House. Netzley said he still would be in a position "to spread a little hatred and discontent."

Military Workers Draw Double Pay, Report Indicates

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Civil Service Commission study shows 5.7 per cent of the Defense Department's work force is made up of retired military personnel who collect pensions as well as regular pay— something retired civilians are not allowed to do.

The proportion of retired military men and women in other federal government departments is considerably lower, however, bringing the average throughout the executive branch to 3.9 per cent, the study shows.

The report, prepared for a House Civil Service subcommittee headed by Rep. David Henderson, D-N.C., did not include statistics from certain secret and semisecret federal agencies such as the Central Intelligence Agency and the FBI.

John H. Martiny, the subcommittee's chief lawyer, said the report was prepared for the panel in response to complaints that the former military men unfairly use their Defense Department connections to get jobs, thenare allowed to receive their pensions while getting full pay on their new government job.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Phone Game Ends With A Shooting

DEAR ABBY: By coincidence, a woman named Bonnie has a phone number similar to ours, and I keep getting calls for her. My wife works nights and I am home alone in the evenings so I started having a little fun when people would call up asking for Bonnie.

One night last week a guy called for Bonnie and I said she was in the shower but she'd be out in a minute. The guy on the other end of the phone said, "Well,I'm her husband and you'd better be out of that house before I get home or I'll blow your head off!" Then he hung up.

That evening on the TV news they reported a local shooting. It seemed a husband came home and found his wife with another guy so he shot him, and the guy was in critical condition. The husband admitted the shooting, and said he warned the guy on the phone to get out of his house.

Bonnie's name and address were in the evening newspaper, so I looked it up in the phone book and the numbers was the same as ours-only the last two numbers were reversed!

Now this has taught me a good lesson, but here's my question: Should I confess this phone bit to the authorities?

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

DEAR CON: Whether it will make a difference to the authorities to learn that the husband thought he had given the victim fair warning is anybodys guess. But in matters that deal with the law, tell your story to a lawyer and let HIM handle it. This is not laughing matter.

DEAR ABBY: When one child in the family gets a birthday present, should the other child get a present, too? Many parents do this so the other child won't feel hurt, left out, or jealous.

It seems to me that this teaches a child to expect a present whenever someone else in the family gets one, and if he doesn't he is very disappointed.

What is your view?

FORT BENNING MOM

DEAR MOM: It's thoughtful to take a little gift to the other child, but it should be only a token. Children need to learn to stand on the sidelines while a sibling has the limelight on HIS special day. Each child will have his turn, and if he must share his "special day," it ceases to be "special."

DEAR ABBY: I am a singer and have been told by many that I should sing professionally, but I prefer to remain an amateur because I have family obligations, which I consider more important than a career.

Recently I was invited to sing for a local civic club. Irehearsedmany hours on a well-planned program and presented it from memory perfectly. (I accompanied myself on the piano.) Afterwards, I received no gift, nor memento for my performance, nor did I receive as much as a "THANK YOU" NOTE FROM THE ORGANIZATION. Furthermore, when the event was reported in the newspaper, my name was omitted.

I have found that this has happened to many musicians who have been asked to play for civic and social organizations. It's even happened when musicians are asked to play or sing at weddings and funerals.

Why are people and reporters so thoughtless?

NEVER SING AGAIN

DEAR NEVER: I don't know, but I'm sure your complaint is valid because I have heard it often.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L.A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

U. N. Retreats From Action On Terrorism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The drive for U.N. action against international terrorism had collapsed Tuesday, crushed by a coalition of Arab, African, Asian and Communist countries. Western diplomats said the campaign for international legal measures would continue outside the world organization.

By a vote of 76-34, the General Assembly's legal committee approved a resolution Monday limiting U.N. action on terrorism during the coming year to a study of its causes. A similar result was expected in the assembly since all its members are members of the legal committee.

U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. said the purpose of the resolution was "indefinite delay."

"Others will take over this issue," he predicted. "The United Nations will lose what ought to be its primary role."

Bennett drew a parallel with the League of Nations — which, he said, "grew increasingly unwilling or unable to come to grips with the realities of its days and faded into the mists of history."

Israeli Ambasdador Yosef Tekoah said the United Nations had "reached a point of virtual incapacity to deal seriously and constructively with the principal problems that confront the international community today."

Anti-Castro Group Behind Explosions

WASHINGTON (AP) — An anti-Castro organization calling itself the Cuban Secret Government says it placed the bombs that damaged a travel agency and three offices which handle packages for Cuba.

The explosions occurred Monday in Montreal, New York and Miami. There were no injuries, but the organization warned of further attacks against persons and firms who do business with Cuba.

"To do business with the Communist tyranny that oppresses Cuba means to recognize them as the legitimate government," a letter received at The Associated Press Washington bureau said.

It said there should be "no more packages for Cuba" except for medicines.

It added: "If the betraying business continues, our attacks will be felt by the publications that advertise the agencies dedicated to this unpatriotic activities.

"Also we will then attack the persons that work in this places, as well as the owners." An English translation accompanied the Spanish text of the letter.

Mistletoe Ball Set For Dec. 20

Westfall's Mistletoe Ball was recently scheduled to take place on Dec. 20 from 8-11:30 p.m. at Westfall High School.

The dance is annually sponsored by the Varsity W. The members' mothers will be decorating for this event.

Varsity W members are presently forming committees to organize the Christmas dance, and setting up committees that are responsible for providing the refreshments, decorations, and entertainment.

Eleven Students Walk For CROP

Chuck Adams had the highest pledge which was $120. We are very proud of you, Chuck and everyone else that participated.

Rev.Chapin Speaks At Holiday Assembly

Rev. Chapin was the speaker at the Thanksgiving assembly held at Westfall on Nov. 22. The Westfall choir performed several numbers at the beginning and the end of the assembly.

The youth choir from the Five Points United Methodist Church also sang two numbers. They were accompanied by Rev. Chapin, who played the guitar.

Bell Loan Guarantee Approved By ODFC

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An application for a $1.2 million loan guarantee for the Bell Co., of Cuyahoga Falls has been approved by the Ohio Development Financing Commission.

Director David Sweet said Monday the ODFC approval will help the company create about 130 jobs in the area. The money is for land, building, and testing and grinding equipment to manufacture tires and aircraft machinery.

Ohio Solon Plans To Fight Equal Rights Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—William G. Batchelder, pipe-smoking state representative from Medina, is poised to join or perhaps lead a House fight against the womens' federal equal rights amendment— if it gets out of the Senate—and unless he gets answers to some legal questions. The 29-year-old attorney, now in his third House term, says the 22 states which have ratified the amendment so far may have "acted too hastily."

Batchelder last week requested, and State Government Committee Chairman Robert A. Manning, R-94 Akron, agreed to have the Legislative Service Commission look into some of the questions. The House committee will review the amendment if and when it comes over from the Senate where it was pulled back from a floor vote Dec. 6. Sponsors said they did not anticipate enough votes for Senate adoption at that time.

The Republican representative says he wants to know, among other things, what effect the amendment would have in the light of a myraid of anti-racial court decisions under U.S. Constitutional equal protection provisions. He noted they have included a ban against discriminating in public accomodations.

"Does this mean that the signs will come down from mens' and womens' rest rooms?", he asked. He said problems could arise if and when someone decides he or she has been discriminated against in such a situation. Then there would be a question of legal counsel which must be provided to indigents under a recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court. "These are only three of the questions that comes to my mind," Batchelder said.

While Manning agreed to ask the LSC to look into Batchelder's questions, the committee chairman indicated his mind is made up. "I'm going to vote for it," said Manning, adding the qualification "if it gets over here." Manning was defeated for reelection in the Nov. 7 balloting, and won't be around if the issue is put off until after the new legislature convenes the first of the year.

Newsmen, lobbyists, and others who sit out lengthy legislative caucuses and other closed meetings often wonder about floor recesses in the Senate, usually announced "for 15 minutes, more or less." Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, who presides over the Senate, explains "we operate on legislative time. A legislative minute is 60 legislative seconds."

After 30 years on the road selling mens' suits, Merrill Samuels finally opened what he had always wanted—an exclusive mens' shop, one that caters mostly to legislators and state government officials.

He had hardly set up in a hotel across the street from the statehouse, until his wife, Evy, moved in. She established a "just for women" counter in the front of the small store.

Women's lib? "I'm not one of them," she says.

State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens has indicated he doesn't plan to listen to everybody else on how he should run his next campaign for governor.

"I listened to the organization before," he said, "and you saw what happened. It's the first time I ever ran without working a campaign from the precinct level up."

Lukens, a Republican, was talking about his unsuccessful primary bid for governor in 1970. He plans another attempt in 1974.

"This time I'll run with my own organization," he said.

Oldtimers around the statehouse recall that is how James A. Rhodes became governor. After one setback, he established his own group and moved into office.

Rhodes could be a Lukens' challenger for the GOP Gubernatorial nomination.

Rep. Robert E. Netzley, the dissident Ohio Republican who dislikes some of his own colleagues almost as much as he dislikes Gov. John J. Gilligan, may be down but he is not out.

Netzley has interspersed his fights with Gilligan and House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess to take on the state income tax (a battle which he lost) and almost anything else he feels amounts to wasteful spending.

During the process, however, he has created many legislative friends, who admired his spunk. Many are Democrats.

Leaders in the new 110th General Assembly, which Democrats will control, thought highly enough of Netzley to seek his advice before naming chairmen to two committees upon which he now serves.

Netzley is vice-chairman of the House Finance Committee, a committee which he was, from a seniority position, in line to chair when the 109th convened.

His battles with Kurfess nixed the chairmanship job however. It went to Lloyd George Kerns.

Kurfess will be minority leader in the new House. Netzley said he still would be in a position "to spread a little hatred and discontent."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Phone Game Ends With A Shooting

DEAR ABBY: By coincidence, a woman named Bonnie has a phone number similar to ours, and I keep getting calls for her. My wife works nights and I am home alone in the evenings so I started having a little fun when people would call up asking for Bonnie.

One night last week a guy called for Bonnie and I said she was in the shower but she'd be out in a minute. The guy on the other end of the phone said, "Well,I'm her husband and you'd better be out of that house before I get home or I'll blow your head off!" Then he hung up.

That evening on the TV news they reported a local shooting. It seemed a husband came home and found his wife with another guy so he shot him, and the guy was in critical condition. The husband admitted the shooting, and said he warned the guy on the phone to get out of his house.

Bonnie's name and address were in the evening newspaper, so I looked it up in the phone book and the numbers was the same as ours-only the last two numbers were reversed!

Now this has taught me a good lesson, but here's my question: Should I confess this phone bit to the authorities?

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

DEAR CON: Whether it will make a difference to the authorities to learn that the husband thought he had given the victim fair warning is anybodys guess. But in matters that deal with the law, tell your story to a lawyer and let HIM handle it. This is not laughing matter.

DEAR ABBY: When one child in the family gets a birthday present, should the other child get a present, too? Many parents do this so the other child won't feel hurt, left out, or jealous.

It seems to me that this teaches a child to expect a present whenever someone else in the family gets one, and if he doesn't he is very disappointed.

What is your view?

FORT BENNING MOM

DEAR MOM: It's thoughtful to take a little gift to the other child, but it should be only a token. Children need to learn to stand on the sidelines while a sibling has the limelight on HIS special day. Each child will have his turn, and if he must share his "special day," it ceases to be "special."

DEAR ABBY: I am a singer and have been told by many that I should sing professionally, but I prefer to remain an amateur because I have family obligations, which I consider more important than a career.

Recently I was invited to sing for a local civic club. Irehearsed many hours on a well-planned program and presented it from memory perfectly. (I accompanied myself on the piano.) Afterwards, I received no gift, nor memento for my performance, nor did I receive as much as a "THANK YOU" NOTE FROM THE ORGANIZATION. Furthermore, when the event was reported in the newspaper, my name was omitted.

I have found that this has happened to many musicians who have been asked to play for civic and social organizations. It's even happened when musicians are asked to play or sing at weddings and funerals.

Why are people and reporters so thoughtless?

NEVER SING AGAIN

DEAR NEVER: I don't know, but I'm sure your complaint is valid because I have heard it often.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L.A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

U. N. Retreats From Action On Terrorism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The drive for U.N. action against international terrorism had collapsed Tuesday, crushed by a coalition of Arab, African, Asian and Communist countries. Western diplomats said the campaign for international legal measures would continue outside the world organization.

By a vote of 76-34, the General Assembly's legal committee approved a resolution Monday limiting U.N. action on terrorism during the coming year to a study of its causes. A similar result was expected in the assembly since all its members are members of the legal committee.

U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. said the purpose of the resolution was "indefinite delay."

"Others will take over this issue," he predicted. "The United Nations will lose what ought to be its primary role."

Bennett drew a parallel with the League of Nations — which, he said, "grew increasingly unwilling or unable to come to grips with the realities of its days and faded into the mists of history."

Israeli Ambasdador Yosef Tekoah said the United Nations had "reached a point of virtual incapacity to deal seriously and constructively with the principal problems that confront the international community today."

Military Workers Draw Double Pay, Report Indicates

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Civil Service Commission study shows 5.7 per cent of the Defense Department's work force is made up of retired military personnel who collect pensions as well as regular pay— something retired civilians are not allowed to do.

The proportion of retired military men and women in other federal government departments is considerably lower, however, bringing the average throughout the executive branch to 3.9 per cent, the study shows.

The report, prepared for a House Civil Service subcommittee headed by Rep. David Henderson, D-N.C., did not include statistics from certain secret and semisecret federal agencies such as the Central Intelligence Agency and the FBI.

John H. Martiny, the subcommittee's chief lawyer, said the report was prepared for the panel in response to complaints that the former military men unfairly use their Defense Department connections to get jobs, thenare allowed to receive their pensions while getting full pay on their new government job.

Blaze Hits U.S. Carrier Off Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Fire broke out in the machinery room of the U.S. carrier Ranger today four days after it arrived off the Vietnamese coast, the U.S. Command announced.

It said the ship's fire crew quickly brought the blaze under control and it was continuing flight operations off the South Vietnamese coast.

Eight crewmen were treated for smoke inhalation but later returned to duty. No other casualties were reported.

A Navy spokesman reported the fire was under investigation, but there was "no indication the fire was caused by any malicious act."

Pumps and electric wiring were burned, but the full extent of the damage was not immediately assessed, the spokesman added.

The 78,000-ton attack carrier has been plagued by sabotage, and its departure for Vietnam was delayed for three months while dry dock repairs were being made in the United States.

SALT Session Held

GENEVA (AP) — U.S. and Soviet negotiations today had their longest meeting to date in the three-week-old new phase of their secret strategic arms limitation talks, SALT II. They conferred two hours. Conference sources said the discussions were active and serious but gave no details.

Resolution Honors William S. Miller

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate adopted unanimously Tuesday a resolution honoring the memory of the late William S. Miller, former editor of the Logan Daily News.

The resolution offered by Sen. Harry Armstrong, R-17 Logan, said in part that Miller "brought to his position a rich and varied background developed during nearly four decades of journalistic experience and always used this experience to further the knowledge of the citizens of Ohio in matters of public concern."

Israel Wants No U.S. Bid For Mideast Accord Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel is making it clear to the Nixon administration that it wants the United States to keep its ideas to itself about the Mideast, at least for the time being.

According to Yigal Allon, Israeli deputy prime minister, the current situation in his part of the world is "so delicate that we don't want to jeopardize it" with big-power involvement at this time.

Allon's statements, made to Secretary of State William P. Rogers as well as to a day-long series of news conferences Tuesday, are a bit of a comeuppance for the Nixon administration, which has made a new American diplomatic effort in the Mideast a key objective for the near future.

He gave support to the theory of the American plan—to arrange an interim settlement as a prelude to an over-all solution—but he indicated his government's real feeling is that "we don't want America to go too early."

According to Allon, Rogers indicated in their two-hour working lunch Tuesday that he agreed "to the notion there should be no premature step because the situation is so delicate."

Therefore, Allon said, "we don't expect any (American) initiative in the immediate future."

This "delicate situation" cited by the Israeli leader involves the general relaxation of tensions around the world, specifically between the United States and the Soviet Union and the two sides of what used to be the European Iron Curtain.

The international situation is so good, the Israeli said, that the world "can afford to wait a few months" before taking any actions that could endanger a Mideast solution.

The prospective summit meeting between Nixon and Soviet leaders was indicated by Allon as a development that should be awaited before a new Mideast effort is made.

Israel Wants No U.S. Bid For Mideast Accord Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel is making it clear to the Nixon administration that it wants the United States to keep its ideas to itself about the Mideast, at least for the time being.

According to Yigal Allon, Israeli deputy prime minister, the current situation in his part of the world is "so delicate that we don't want to jeopardize it" with big-power involvement at this time.

Allon's statements, made to Secretary of State William P. Rogers as well as to a day-long series of news conferences Tuesday, are a bit of a comeuppance for the Nixon administration, which has made a new American diplomatic effort in the Mideast a key objective for the near future.

He gave support to the theory of the American plan—to arrange an interim settlement as a prelude to an over-all solution—but he indicated his government's real feeling is that "we don't want America to go too early."

According to Allon, Rogers indicated in their two-hour working lunch Tuesday that he agreed "to the notion there should be no premature step because the situation is so delicate."

Therefore, Allon said, "we don't expect any (American) initiative in the immediate future."

This "delicate situation" cited by the Israeli leader involves the general relaxation of tensions around the world, specifically between the United States and the Soviet Union and the two sides of what used to be the European Iron Curtain.

The international situation is so good, the Israeli said, that the world "can afford to wait a few months" before taking any actions that could endanger a Mideast solution.

The prospective summit meeting between Nixon and Soviet leaders was indicated by Allon as a development that should be awaited before a new Mideast effort is made.

Garrett, Purdue Turn Back Miami

When John Garrett was growing up—very far up—in Peru, Indiana, his idol was Rick Mount, who, at the time, was busy shattering Purdue University's basketball scoring records.

So it was no surprise when Garrett followed Mount to Purdue. And if the speedy Mount was the best little man ever to play for the Boilermakers, then Garrett, who's grown up to a hefty 6-foot-11, may be the best big one. Garrett averaged almost 27 points per game as a freshman last year and hit on an amazing 53 per cent of his field goal attempts. That's the kind of shooting that excites basketball people and Garrett kept the juices flowing Tuesday night with a virtual one-man show that moved the Boilermakers to a 66-65 victory over Miami of Ohio.

All the young man did was score 18 of Purdue's last 24 points including the winning basket with one second left to play. That gave him 29 points on 13 of 22 shots from the field and, in case you're wondering, that's 59 per cent accuracy.

Maryland's Tom McMillen was almost as hot at the start of the third-ranked Terrapins' 99-73 victory over Georgetown as Garrett was for Purdue.

McMillen scored nine of his team's first 19 points and finished with 29 for the night. He also grabbed 15 rebounds as Maryland dominated the outmanned Hoyas, who started three freshmen.

You can't knock frosh to Arizona. The Wildcats used five of them for most of the second half against San Diego State and came out with a 79-70 victory.

Steve Downing tapped a rebound of a missed free throw in for Indiana's winning basket as the 15th-ranked Hoosiers escaped with a 69-67 victory over gritty Notre Dame.

Indiana was down by as many as 13 points in the second half before launching a comeback.

Knight's old Army team came out a winner too, but barely, squeezing by Northeastern 70-68 on two free throws by Doug Crewse with no time left on the clock at the end of an overtime period.

There were other last-second foul shot heroics too.

Little Harry Larrabee connected on eight crucial 1-and-1 free throws in the final minutes as Texas nipped 19th-ranked Memphis State 80-79.

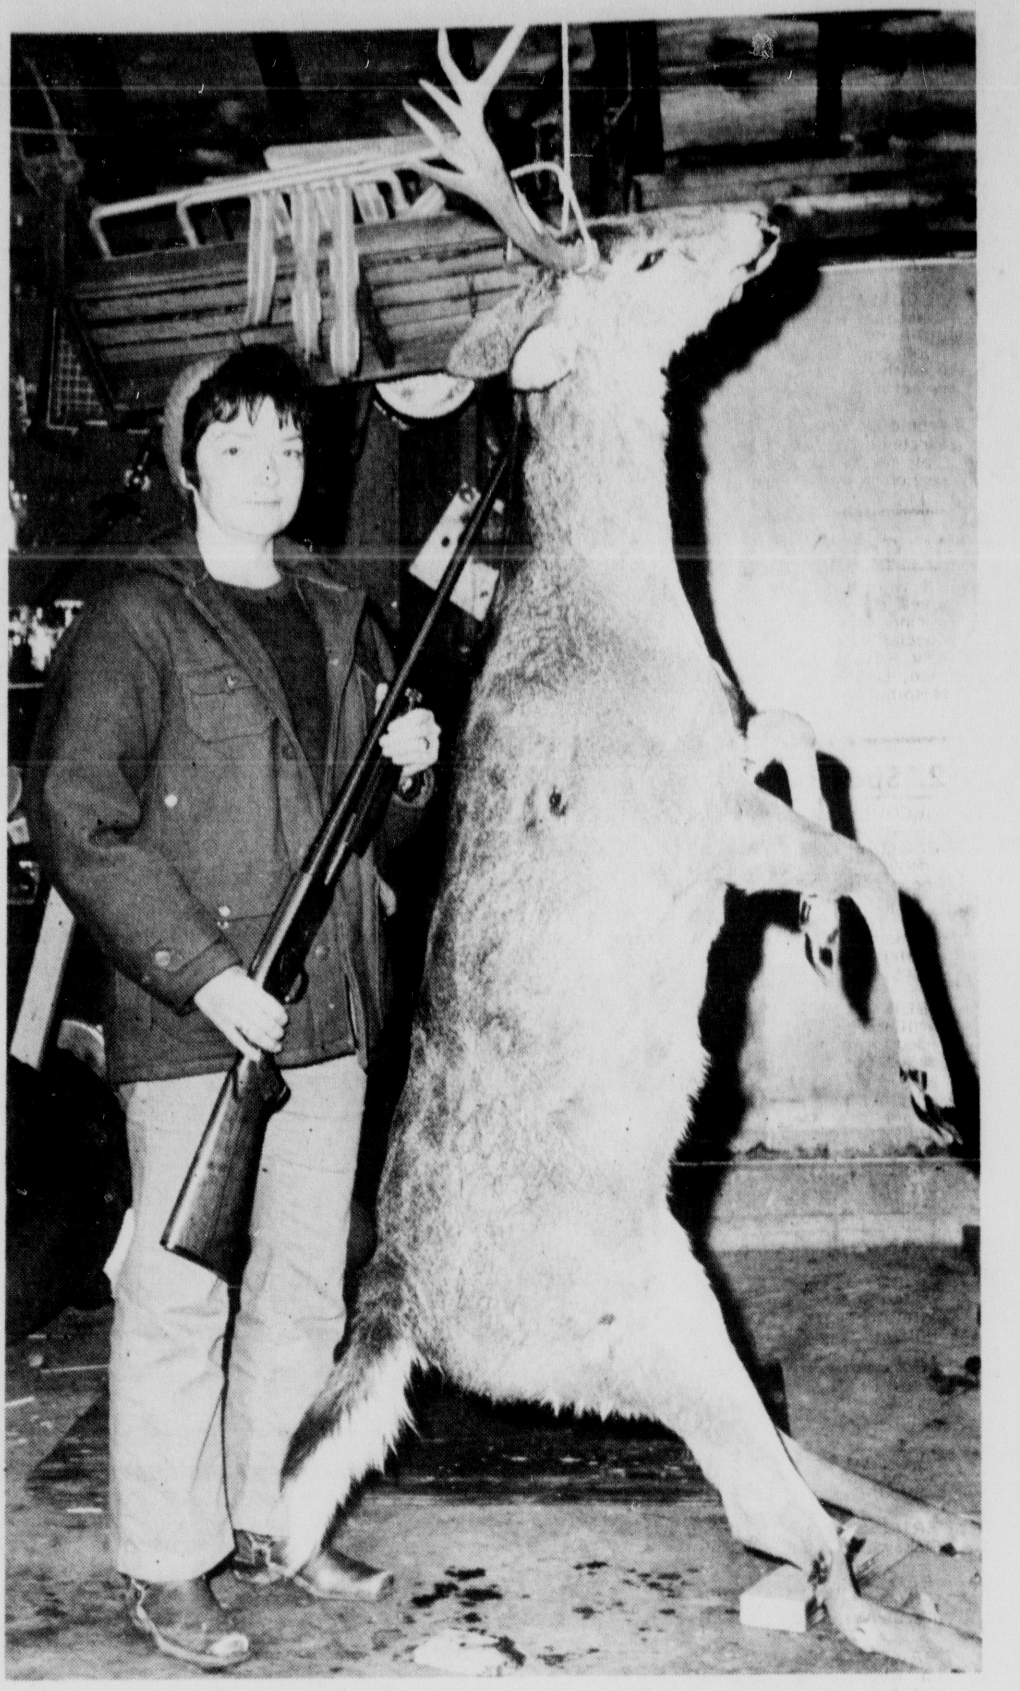
In other games, St. John's of New York defeated Rhode Island 85-75, Texas Tech slugged Tulsa 92-83, Marshall downed Cleveland State 79-72, Davidson whipped Richmond 88-80, Connecticut topped Massachusetts 71-68 and Duke whacked East Carolina 108-74.



LADY SHOOTER—Sandra Wells, wife of Tom Wells, 340 Walnut Creek Pike, strikes a typically male pose with a nine-point buck she bagged about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday in Hocking County. It was the first deer for Mrs. Wells, who elected to go hunting with her husband's friends on the final day of the season. The deer will be mounted above the fireplace, beside a 14-point buck shot by Tom in 1962 that won him acclaim and a place in the world record books. It was the third best, according to Boone and Crockett records, killed that year. He shot it in Ross County.

ABA Owners OK Expansion Into 2 Cities Next Year

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The American Basketball Association owners, more confident than ever in their league's survival, have taken steps to expand into two new cities next season.

ABA Commissioner Robert Carlson said the owners voted Tuesday to accept applications for the additional franchises and he said the trustees hope to expand the league into larger television market areas.

He named Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, Jersey Meadows and Honolulu as strong possibilities.

Carlson also expressed confidence in the ABA's future. "I've been connected with this league since May, 1969. "I've seen ownerships go up and down and up again.

"But never have I seen more stable ownerships than at the present time, particularly in regard to the new buildings going up in Indianapolis, San Diego and Denver," he said.

The commissioner said applicants will be interviewed in February at the All-Star Game in Salt Lake City.

The issue of expansion remains connected to the proposed merger with the older National Basketball Association. A new merger committee was named, with Charles O. Finley, owner of the Memphis Tams, its chairman.

The ABA also approved a hardship draft to be held next spring, a move which owner Leonard Blood of the San Diego Conquistadores said opens the way for his team to negotiate with All-America center Bill Walton of UCLA.

Carlson refused to comment on whether the 6-foot-11 Walton, a junior, would be eligible for the draft. But a smiling Bloom said after the meeting, "We got what we came for. We wanted a shot at signing him, and now we will get it."

The Dallas Chaparrals' draft rights to Walton will expire when the ABA holds its hardship draft, Bloom said. The Conquistadors, playing its first season in the league, would have first pick in the hardship draft.

The owners also approved the proposed sale of the Denver Rockets to a group headed by San Diego furniture executive Hank Goldburt, Carlson said. He indicated the team would remain in Denver.

Squires, Nets Both Lose ABA Games

James Jones' 25 points led the Utah Stars to a 123-104 American Basketball Association rout of Virginia while Rich Jones pumped in 31 as the Dallas Chaparrals turned back New York 105-98. In the only other contest, Denver beat San Diego 110-103 in overtime.

After a seesaw first quarter in which the lead changed hands nine times, Utah opened up a 14-point lead in the second period and boosted the bulge to 29 at the start of the fourth period. Zelmo Beaty added 23 points for the Stars while Julius Erving topped Virginia with 24.

Dallas finished off the Nets in the first half, piling up a 68-43 spread after two periods and turning back a second-half rally. It was the fifth triumph in seven games for the Chaps, who also got 22 points from Bob Netolicky. John Roche had 25 for the Nets, who played without regulars Bill Melchionni and Billy Paultz.

Dave Robisch, a lanky lefty, scored six overtime points as Denver defeated San Diego, handing the expansion Conquistadors their eighth straight loss.

The Qs jumped to an early 17-3 lead stayed ahead until Robisch's short jump shot with 6½ minutes left in regulation time tied the score at 86. Warren Jabali of the Rockets scored with two seconds remaining to send the game into overtime.

Bulls Lose To Lakers

The ball sailed through the basket to give the Chicago Bulls an apparent National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers at the overtime buzzer Tuesday night.

But referees Mark Mano and Paul Mihalik disallowed the shot and instead awarded a 106—105 triumph to the Lakers. The official ruling was that the "clock failed to start after Walker's foul shot hit the rim."

But the Chicago crowd was in no mood for technicalities. The hometown fans roared in anger while Bulls' General Manager Pat Williams had to explain the ruling over the loud speaker system.

Then, shortly after Williams made his explanation to the crowd, he announced that the club would protest the referees' decision.

"I'm confident of winning this protest," said Williams,"because we have the video tape. It will show that the referees did not signal for the clock to start and therefore the Bulls should have been awarded the victory.

In the other NBA games Tuesday night, the Buffalo Braves stopped the Houston Rockets 95-94; the Kansas City Omaha Kings nipped the Cleveland Cavaliers 100-99; the New York Knicks walloped the Atlanta Hawks 114-93; the Baltimore Bullets trimmed the Philadelphia 76ers 123-102 and the Milwaukee Bucks trashed the Portland Trail Blazers 115-94.

Miami U's Loss Highlights Ohio College Cage Action

"I just wanted to get board position," Garrett said later. "I thought Bruce would shoot."

Hedric observed: "The only way we could lose was by uncovering the basket, and that's what we did."

Garrett finished with a game-high 29 points in leading Purdue to its fourth win in five starts. Junior center Rich Hampton paced Miami, now 3-1, with 21 points.

Marshall outlasted a surprisingly tough Cleveland State 79-72 behind the shooting of Randy Noll and Mike d'Antoni with 22 and 21 points, respectively. CSU had a one-point lead at halftime and was ahead 45-42 in the second period before the Herd outscored them 10-2 to go in front.

In other action, Ball State trimmed Steubenville 45-38 in a tight defensive battle; Northwood Institute of Indiana humiliated Wilberforce 121-66, and California State, Pa., downed Baldwin-Wallace 86-75.

Area Cage Teams Face Loop Tilts

Conference action takes the limelight in area basketball games Friday, Teays Valley hosts Marysville, Logan Elm's bailwick will be invaded by Piketon and Westfall will travel to East Clinton.

Teays Valley and Logan Elm will be shooting to maintain their mastery in the Metropolitan League and Scioto Valley Conference while Westfall will be trying to move itself off the bottom run in the SVC.

The Vikings are 3-1 overall and 3-0 in the Metro race and host Marysville Friday. Coach Bob Hoover's hoopsters share that coveted top position in the league with Dublin, also 3-0, a team they play Dec. 30.

Piketon will visit the Logan Elm's Spangler gymnasium Friday. The Redstreaks are 1-5 overall and 0-1 in the league, but Coach Dave Little is not anitcipating any pushover. He has not had the opportunity to scout Piketon this year.

The Braves are 5-0 overall and 2-0 in the SVC. Saturday Logan Elm will host Berne Union. They are the only cagers playing two games this weekend.

East Clinton is 4-1 overall and 1-0 in the SVC. Coach Jeff Bigam's Mustangs will have to contain the Astros' balanced offense led by smooth shooting guard Jeff Streber.

Westfall is 0-6 overall and 0-2 in the SVC.

8 Names Proposed For Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight new names—six of them pitchers—showed up on ballots for election to baseball's Hall of Fame which were mailed Tuesday.

The new eligibles include Warren Spahn, winningest lefthander in major league history, Whitey Ford, Robin Roberts, Vern Law, Lou Burdette, Curt Simmons, Smokey Burgess and Dick Groat. Burgess, a catcher and pinch hitting star, and shortstop Groat are the only non-pitchers added to this year's list of eligibles.

End To Swimming At Indiana U Eyed

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)— Indiana University swimming coach James "Doc" Counsilman says Indiana should drop out of the Big Ten in swimming because of financial cutbacks proposed by the university.

Counsilman has guided the Hoosiers to 12 straight Big Ten titles and five straight NCAA championships.

Myers Happy, But Raps Penalties

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals wide receiver Chip Myers says he's "excited" to be tied for the lead in receptions in the American Football Conference but is "really disturbed" by penalties that have cost the team two games.

Myers, who caught eight for 116 yards in Saturday's 27-24 loss to Cleveland, is now tied with Fred Biletnikoff of Oakland with 53 catches.

"I'm really excited to be where I am," said the 6-foot-5, 200 pound graduate of Northwest Oklahoma. "Any time a receiver has more than 600 yards its a great year."

Myers has gained 742 yards with his catches—his best year but it could be better.

Myers caught a 49-yard pass from Ken Anderson in one of two touchdowns called back for infractions Sunday and was the intended receiver in the end zone when Virgil Carter's pass was intercepted by the Brown's linebacker, Bill Andrews in the waning seconds.

"I can't take anything from Andrews," Myers said, "it was a tremendous defensive play. He went high into the air."

But Myers wasn't happy about the referee's decision calling back his touchdown for holding.

"It doesn't really bother me," he said. "You know those are chances you take all the time," linemen holding.

"The thing that upsets me is, they are only called when we do something really well. It seems like there's always someone looking real hard for something."

Myers said movies of Saturday's game did not disclose the actual infractions..."I'm sure the referee saw something we could not see in the films. But we didn't see any more holding going on in the game than you see in anyone else's game films.

"Maybe Cleveland is just more mature than us. We made mistakes. They didn't. And we had two touchdowns called back," Myers said.

Myers doesn't believe the Bengals will have any trouble getting up for the Houston Oilers game Sunday despite Houston's 1-12 record.

"First a lot of the Bengals, including me, are from the southwest and we want to look good down there.

"Second, if we finish with an 8-6 record it will be a winning record and that's important...for the team as well as the individual players. The higher we finish, the lower the team drafts. I know I don't want to give Paul Brown a chance to go for a good receiver who might take my job, and I know the other fellows feel that way too."

Viking JH Teams Split With Hamilton

Teays Valley seventh graders topped Hamilton Twp. 41-34 in overtime Tuesday night, but their eighth grade team lost 28-21 after leading all the way.

The seventh grade Vikings were forced to play catch-up ball all night as they trailed after the first quarter 10-6, at the half 18-14 and after three quarters 26-20. Teays Valley tied the contest 31-31 at the end of the game and then exploded for 10 points in the overtime period for their second straight win.

Dennis Werner paced the Vikings with 14 points, Rick Queen added 10, Wayne Hettinger hit for six, John Woodruff scored five, Greg Prince had four and John Pabst scored two.

Doug Lace was high for Hamilton Twp. with 18 points.

The eighth graders almost reversed the first game. Hamilton and Teays Valley were knotted 4-4 after the first period, but the Vikings held a slim 12-10 lead at the half and 18-14 margin after three periods before falling 28-21, their second loss in three games.

Jeff Coss and Greg Cline scored six each for Teays Valley, Tim Tosca counted for four, Jim Little and Dewey Chaffin had two each and Rob Anderson added a point.

Next game for the two teams will be 5:30 p.m. Tuesday when they host Circleville.

Bench Recovers Well From Surgery

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds catcher Johnny Bench was expected to be moved from the intensive care unit today as he continued to recover from a lung operation.

A lesion was removed from his lung in a two-and-one-half hour operation Monday. Physicians said the growth was benign.

Tiny Tigers Bow 43-41 To Westfall

The tiny Tigers jumped off to an 8-6 first period lead, but Westfall tied the count at the half 16-16. Circleville was ahead 27-24 at the end of three periods.

Margin of defeat came at the foul line where Westfall hit 11 of 25 attempts and Circleville converted 7 of 15 attempts.

Bill Mogan canned 16 points for the Tigers, Frank Merrill and Mearle Logan had 10 each, Brian Fath had 3 and Brian Price scored two.

John Long paced Westfall with 19 points and Rick Schleich had 12.

Next game for the Tigers will be Tuesday when the seventh and eighth grade teams travel to Teays Valley. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

The issue of expansion remains connected to the proposed merger with the older National Basketball Association. A new merger committee was named, with Charles O. Finley, owner of the Memphis Tams, its chairman.

The ABA also approved a hardship draft to be held next spring, a move which owner Leonard Blood of the San Diego Conquistadores said opens the way for his team to negotiate with All-America center Bill Walton of UCLA.

Carlson refused to comment on whether the 6-foot-11 Walton, a junior, would be eligible for the draft. But a smiling Bloom said after the meeting, "We got what we came for. We wanted a shot at signing him, and now we will get it."

The Dallas Chaparrals' draft rights to Walton will expire when the ABA holds its hardship draft, Bloom said. The Conquistadors, playing its first season in the league, would have first pick in the hardship draft.

The owners also approved the proposed sale of the Denver Rockets to a group headed by San Diego furniture executive Hank Goldburt, Carlson said. He indicated the team would remain in Denver.

Squires, Nets Both Lose ABA Games

James Jones' 25 points led the Utah Stars to a 123-104 American Basketball Association rout of Virginia while Rich Jones pumped in 31 as the Dallas Chaparrals turned back New York 105-98. In the only other contest, Denver beat San Diego 110-103 in overtime.

After a seesaw first quarter in which the lead changed hands nine times, Utah opened up a 14-point lead in the second period and boosted the bulge to 29 at the start of the fourth period. Zelmo Beaty added 23 points for the Stars while Julius Erving topped Virginia with 24.

Dallas finished off the Nets in the first half, piling up a 68-43 spread after two periods and turning back a second-half rally. It was the fifth triumph in seven games for the Chaps, who also got 22 points from Bob Netolicky. John Roche had 25 for the Nets, who played without regulars Bill Melchionni and Billy Paultz.

Dave Robisch, a lanky lefty, scored six overtime points as Denver defeated San Diego, handing the expansion Conquistadors their eighth straight loss.

The Qs jumped to an early 17-3 lead stayed ahead until Robisch's short jump shot with 6½ minutes left in regulation time tied the score at 86. Warren Jabali of the Rockets scored with two seconds remaining to send the game into overtime.

Bulls Lose To Lakers

Chet Walker missed a foul shot but grabbed the rebound and let fly with a 30-footer.

The ball sailed through the basket to give the Chicago Bulls an apparent National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers at the overtime buzzer Tuesday night.

But referees Mark Mano and Paul Mihalik disallowed the shot and instead awarded a 106—105 triumph to the Lakers. The official ruling was that the "clock failed to start after Walker's foul shot hit the rim."

But the Chicago crowd was in no mood for technicalities. The hometown fans roared in anger while Bulls' General Manager Pat Williams had to explain the ruling over the loud speaker system.

Then, shortly after Williams made his explanation to the crowd, he announced that the club would protest the referees' decision.

"I'm confident of winning this protest," said Williams,"because we have the video tape. It will show that the referees did not signal for the clock to start and therefore the Bulls should have been awarded the victory.

In the other NBA games Tuesday night, the Buffalo Braves stopped the Houston Rockets 95-94; the Kansas City Omaha Kings nipped the Cleveland Cavaliers 100-99; the New York Knicks walloped the Atlanta Hawks 114-93; the Baltimore Bullets trimmed the Philadelphia 76ers 123-102 and the Milwaukee Bucks trashed the Portland Trail Blazers 115-94.

Area Cage Teams Face Loop Tilts

Conference action takes the limelight in area basketball games Friday, Teays Valley hosts Marysville, Logan Elm's bailwick will be invaded by Piketon and Westfall will travel to East Clinton.

Teays Valley and Logan Elm will be shooting to maintain their mastery in the Metropolitan League and Scioto Valley Conference while Westfall will be trying to move itself off the bottom run in the SVC.

The Vikings are 3-1 overall and 3-0 in the Metro race and host Marysville Friday. Coach Bob Hoover's hoopsters share that coveted top position in the league with Dublin, also 3-0, a team they play Dec. 30.

Piketon will visit the Logan Elm's Spangler gymnasium Friday. The Redstreaks are 1-5 overall and 0-1 in the league, but Coach Dave Little is not anitcipating any pushover. He has not had the opportunity to scout Piketon this year.

The Braves are 5-0 overall and 2-0 in the SVC. Saturday Logan Elm will host Berne Union. They are the only cagers playing two games this weekend.

East Clinton is 4-1 overall and 1-0 in the SVC. Coach Jeff Bigam's Mustangs will have to contain the Astros' balanced offense led by smooth shooting guard Jeff Streber.

Westfall is 0-6 overall and 0-2 in the SVC.

8 Names Proposed For Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight new names—six of them pitchers—showed up on ballots for election to baseball's Hall of Fame which were mailed Tuesday.

The new eligibles include Warren Spahn, winningest lefthander in major league history, Whitey Ford, Robin Roberts, Vern Law, Lou Burdette, Curt Simmons, Smokey Burgess and Dick Groat. Burgess, a catcher and pinch hitting star, and shortstop Groat are the only non-pitchers added to this year's list of eligibles.

End To Swimming At Indiana U Eyed

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)— Indiana University swimming coach James "Doc" Counsilman says Indiana should drop out of the Big Ten in swimming because of financial cutbacks proposed by the university.

Counsilman has guided the Hoosiers to 12 straight Big Ten titles and five straight NCAA championships.

Miami U's Loss Highlights Ohio College Cage Action

"We did a good job on everybody but Garrett," Miami basketball Coach Darrell Hedric said after his Redskins let an upset of Purdue slip from their grasp.

He referred to John Garrett, the Boilermakers' 6-foot-11 sophomore center who scored 18 points in the last nine minutes of play—including the winning bucket just before the buzzer—to give Purdue a 66-65 victory Tuesday night.

Garrett, benched with four fouls, was put back in the game with Purdue trailing 50-43. The Boilermakers charged back, finally tying the score at 61-61 on two Garrett free throws with 2:29 left.

The teams swapped the lead until Garrett netted the winning points with one second remaining after taking an ankle-high pass under the basket from teammate Bruck Parkinson, who was trapped in the right corner.

"I just wanted to get board position," Garrett said later. "I thought Bruce would shoot."

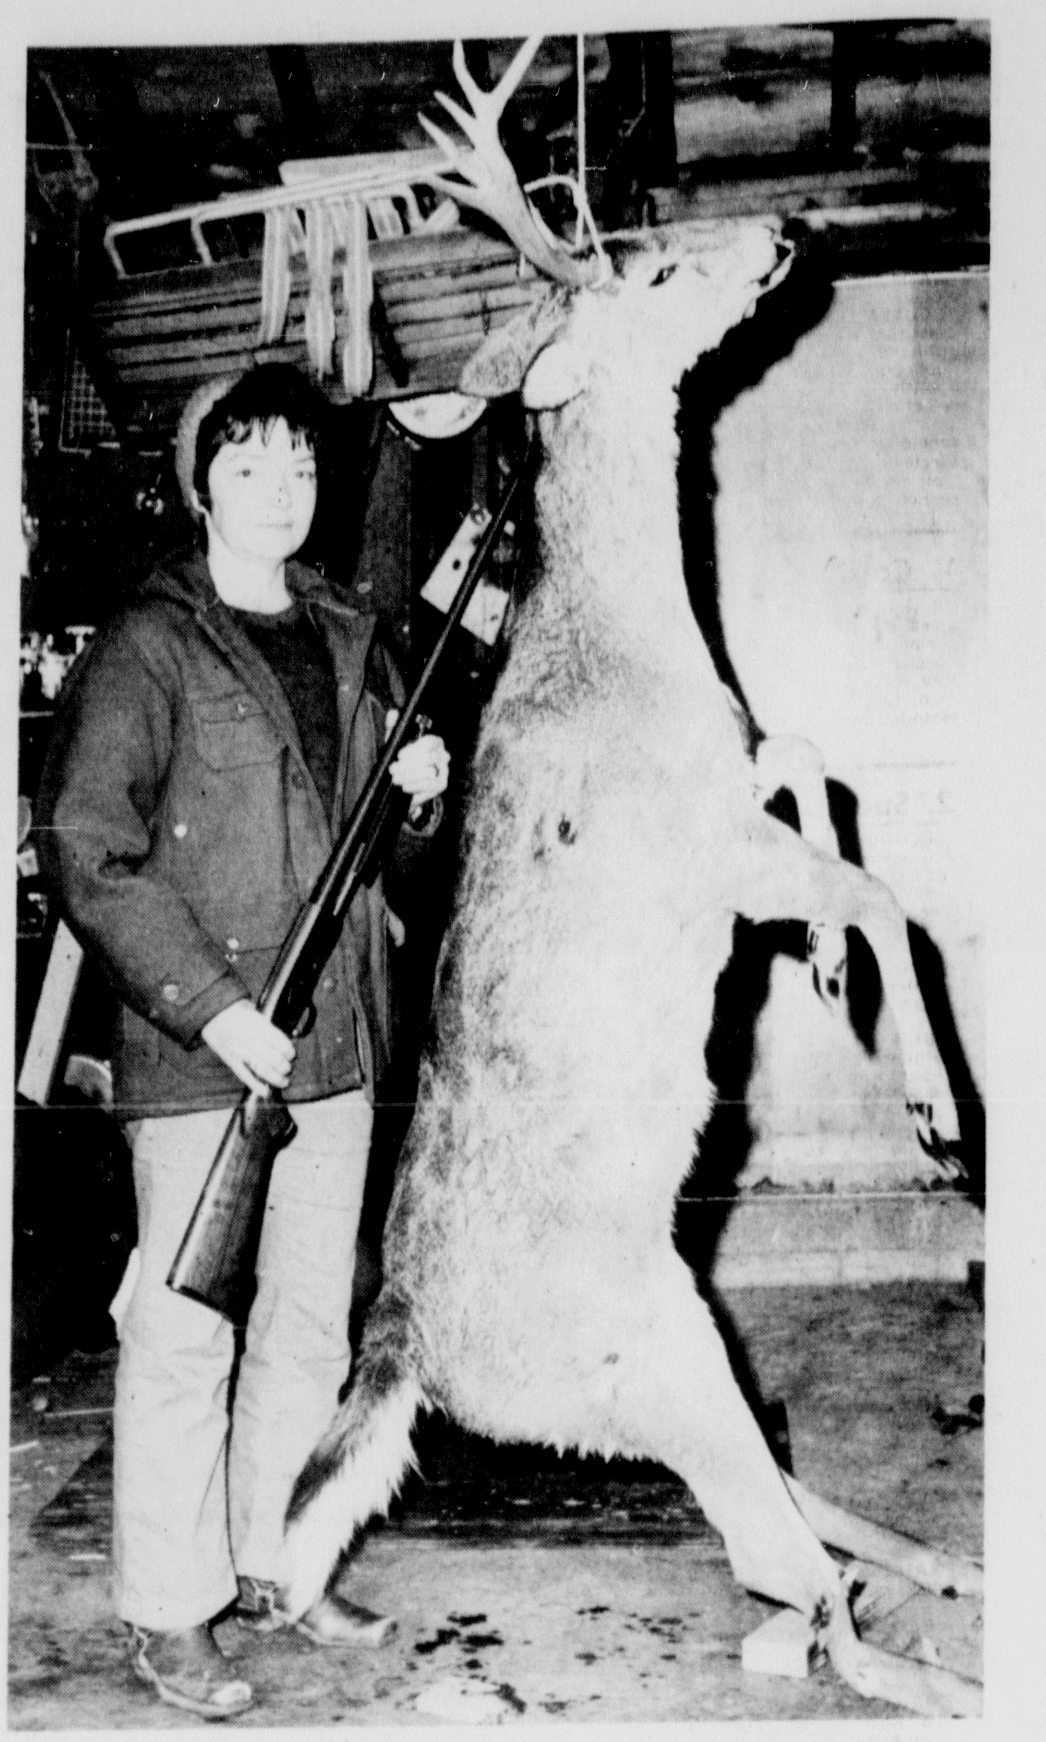
Hedric observed: "The only way we could lose was by uncovering the basket, and that's what we did."

Garrett finished with a game-high 29 points in leading Purdue to its fourth win in five starts. Junior center Rich Hampton paced Miami, now 3-1, with 21 points.

In the only Ohio Conference game of the night, Wittenberg trounced Kenyon 67-38 to hand the Lords their fifth loss against two victories. Don Lyman paced the Tigers with 18 points.

Marshall outlasted a surprisingly tough Cleveland State 79-72 behind the shooting of Randy Noll and Mike d'Antoni with 22 and 21 points, respectively. CSU had a one-point lead at halftime and was ahead 45-42 in the second period before the Herd outscored them 10-2 to go in front.

In other action, Ball State trimmed Steubenville 45-38 in a tight defensive battle; Northwood Institute of Indiana humiliated Wilberforce 121-66, and California State, Pa., downed Baldwin-Wallace 86-75.



LADY SHOOTER—Sandra Wells, wife of Tom Wells, 340 Walnut Creek Pike, strikes a typically male pose with a nine-point buck she bagged about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday in Hocking County. It was the first deer for Mrs. Wells, who elected to go hunting with her husband's friends on the final day of the season. The deer will be mounted above the fireplace, beside a 14-point buck shot by Tom in 1962 that won him acclaim and a place in the world record books. It was the third best, according to Boone and Crockett records, killed that year. He shot it in Ross County.

Myers Happy, But Raps Penalties

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals wide receiver Chip Myers says he's "excited" to be tied for the lead in receptions in the American Football Conference but is "really disturbed" by penalties that have cost the team two games.

Myers, who caught eight for 116 yards in Saturday's 27-24 loss to Cleveland, is now tied with Fred Biletnikoff of Oakland with 53 catches.

"I'm really excited to be where I am," said the 6-foot-5, 200 pound graduate of Northwest Oklahoma. "Any time a receiver has more than 600 yards its a great year."

Myers has gained 742 yards with his catches—his best year but it could be better.

Myers caught a 49-yard pass from Ken Anderson in one of two touchdowns called back for infractions Sunday and was the intended receiver in the end zone when Virgil Carter's pass was intercepted by the Brown's linebacker, Bill Andrews in the waning seconds.

"I can't take anything from Andrews," Myers said, "it was a tremendous defensive play. He went high into the air."

But Myers wasn't happy about the referee's decision calling back his touchdown for holding.

"It doesn't really bother me," he said. "You know those are chances you take all the time," linemen holding.

"The thing that upsets me is, they are only called when we do something really well. It seems like there's always someone looking real hard for something."

Myers said movies of Saturday's game did not disclose the actual infractions..."I'm sure the referee saw something we could not see in the films. But we didn't see any more holding going on in the game than you see in anyone else's game films.

"Maybe Cleveland is just more mature than us. We made mistakes. They didn't. And we had two touchdowns called back," Myers said.

The loss eliminated Cincinnati and gave Cleveland a shot at the "wild card" spot in the post season playoffs.

Myers doesn't believe the Bengals will have any trouble getting up for the Houston Oilers game Sunday despite Houston's 1-12 record.

"First a lot of the Bengals, including me, are from the southwest and we want to look good down there.

"Second, if we finish with an 8-6 record it will be a winning record and that's important...for the team as well as the individual players. The higher we finish, the lower the team drafts. I know I don't want to give Paul Brown a chance to go for a good receiver who might take my job, and I know the other fellows feel that way too."

Viking JH Teams Split With Hamilton

Teays Valley seventh graders topped Hamilton Twp. 41-34 in overtime Tuesday night, but their eighth grade team lost 28-21 after leading all the way.

The seventh grade Vikings were forced to play catch-up ball all night as they trailed after the first quarter 10-6, at the half 18-14 and after three quarters 26-20. Teays Valley tied the contest 31-31 at the end of the game and then exploded for 10 points in the overtime period for their second straight win.

Dennis Werner paced the Vikings with 14 points, Rick Queen added 10, Wayne Hettinger hit for six, John Woodruff scored five, Greg Prince had four and John Pabst scored two.

Doug Lace was high for Hamilton Twp. with 18 points.

The eighth graders almost reversed the first game. Hamilton and Teays Valley were knotted 4-4 after the first period, but the Vikings held a slim 12-10 lead at the half and 18-14 margin after three periods before falling 28-21, their second loss in three games.

Jeff Coss and Greg Cline scored six each for Teays Valley, Tim Tosca counted for four, Jim Little and Dewey Chaffin had two each and Rob Anderson added a point.

Next game for the two teams will be 5:30 p.m. Tuesday when they host Circleville.

Bench Recovers Well From Surgery

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Reds catcher Johnny Bench was expected to be moved from the intensive care unit today as he continued to recover from a lung operation.

A lesion was removed from his lung in a two-and-one-half hour operation Monday. Physicians said the growth was benign.

Tiny Tigers Bow 43-41 To Westfall

The tiny Tigers jumped off to an 8-6 first period lead, but Westfall tied the count at the half 16-16. Circleville was ahead 27-24 at the end of three periods.

Margin of defeat came at the foul line where Westfall hit 11 of 25 attempts and Circleville converted 7 of 15 attempts.

Bill Mogan canned 16 points for the Tigers, Frank Merrill and Mearle Logan had 10 each, Brian Fath had 3 and Brian Price scored two.

John Long paced Westfall with 19 points and Rick Schleich had 12.

Next game for the Tigers will be Tuesday when the seventh and eighth grade teams travel to Teays Valley. Game time is 5:30 p.m.

Kingston News

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wolfe returned home last Tuesday after visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wolfe and family in St. Petersburg, Fla. and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harrington and children in Washington, D. C.

After dinner at the Wardell Party Home in Circleville Friday night, the members of the Civic Club with their husbands went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Likens for the evening. They were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Timmons, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Congrove, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Street, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Manring, the Likens and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, the guest of honor, who was the club's "Citizen of the Year."

The Kingston Methodist Church will hold its Christmas program and have a visit from Santa Claus Sunday night at 7 p.m. The Primay class will present a program of songs followed by a candle lighting service during which Mrs. John Wolfe will sing, "O, Holy Night" accompanied at the piano by Miss Jeanne Beavers. Then Santa makes his appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin entertained at dinner Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Irwin, Chillicothe, Mrs. Olive Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Kelley and son, Pat, Mr. David Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelley. The occasion was the second birthday of their son, Kelley.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Kingston American Legion, Unit 291 had its annual Christmas dinner last Tuesday night at 6:30. The table was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season and hostesses were Mrs. Olive Kelley and Mrs. Francis Kelley.

In the meeting that followed, Mrs. Paul Miller was in charge and called the meeting to order. Mrs. Olive Kelley brought forth the flag and after the Pledge of Allegiance, Mrs. Leona Gibson offered prayer and the Preamble of the Auxiliary was repeated.

Cards of thanks were read from Mrs. Charles Maxwell and Mrs. Ethel Chester, along with a letter from the Veterans Administration concerning ditty bags, bibs, etc. furnished by the group. They also brought a number of items from a contribution to them by the WSCS.

Dates announced were: Dec. 6 and 7, opening of the gift shop at the Veterans Hospital; Dec. 11, Christmas tree lighting; December 26-27 and 28, Midwinter Conference in Columbus; Feb. 15, Seventh District's birthday party at the hospital.

Mrs. Helen Kneece and Mrs. Donald Dearth are new members of the Auxiliary. Regular meetings will resume again in March.

There is a box in the Red and White Store for donations of food and other items suitable for the American Legion and Auxiliary Christmas baskets.

Mrs. James Seymour and Mrs. Phillip Davis spent last weekend at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Dwight Lanman in Richmond, Ind.

The Civic Club is waiting for more entrants to its Home Decorating contest that will be judged on Dec. 20. To enter your home in one of the three catagories, call Mrs. Howard Fish or Mrs. Kenneth Timmons. The three catagories are(1) a religious theme, (2) a door and (3) an all over decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Grove City spent the past week with his mother, Mrs. Charles Miller.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will have its Christmas program Sunday night, Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. It will be a musical entitled "Go Tell It On the Mountain" with Terry Taylor reading the Christmas Story according to Luke between numbers and presentations made to the live Nativity Scene. The Sunday School will have a tree trimming party on Saturday night. Each child will bring a homemade ornament and there will be refreshments and presents.

Jim Croce Makes His Mark As Songwriter

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — For Jim Croce, success means saying goodbye to the days when he ducked away from flying barstools, popped pills called "West Coast Turnarounds" and cringed from the pain of his jackhammer-cramped hands.

Somehow, there's no way anyone could seriously question whether Croce has paid his so-called dues. It's all too obvious that he has. His songs let you know more than anything else.

On stage, he comes across with down-to-earth songs, some sad and other comical. And his flexible style of entertainment is, perhaps, his greatest asset — for he sings with a lyrical story-telling style that nearly everyone identifies with because of its appeal to basic emotions.

"I try to approach my songs so others can say they've had that kind of experience too," said Croce, who was raised in South Philadelphia and became a disc jockey before embarking on a musical career.

The thing that Croce is concentrating on more than anything else is improving his already-accomplished style of guitar picking.

"Right now I'm tinkering around with the guitar and trying to become a better player. I listen to Jerry Reid all day and all night. He's unbelievable."

"Between the jackhammers and the steering wheels, my hands have stiffened up," he said of the kind of rugged truck driving and construction work he was doing only a year ago.

Croce likes to recall for his audiences the days when he barrelled down the highways in huge freight trucks trying to keep awake on pep pills.

"They're called 'West Coast Turnarounds,'' he said, "because after you're through driving from Orlando to San Diego you just pop another one in your mouth and turn around to head back. It gets kinds wierd though when you begin having conversation with your windshiled."

Croce's life is a mixed bag if ever there was one. He has a degree in psychology, worked for the State Department on a Mideast cultural exchange program and used to write "jive" radio commercials.

"You know the kind," he said. "They go something like this: 'Alright all you heavy cats out there, we're gonna get down and do it funky right tonight so lay back and let us lay some of that heavy jive music on ya'll man.' "

Though Croce's style borders on country-folk, he's quick to point out that "I grew up listening to country music and a lot of the old-time Jimmy Rodgers stuff. The first groups I played in were bluegrass."

The list of his most respected performers is as varied as his lifestyle. It ranges from classical guitarist Christopher Parkening to the old-time music of Fats Domino.

"Good-time funky music is the stuff I love — stuff like the Coasters and Fats did and stuff that Jerry Reid and Merle Haggard are doing."

His home, at present, is a rented farmhouse in Wagontown, Pa.. "When I go back home," he said, "I like to stop in at the old bars and hangouts."

"It's not a dues paying scene," he added somewhat apologetically. "Rather, it's something I did then and still like to do now.

"Whether sitting at a bar or out of work, I've had a chance to sort things out in my head and with my songs. That way I know where my musical direction is coming from."

"It isn't magic," he said of his songwriting style. "It's just sitting down and trying to say something."

65 Refugees Land In U.S.

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A battered, leaking 56-foot sailboat grounded on a beach near luxury condominiums Tuesday carrying 65 Haitian refugees, 12 of whom said they bribed their way out of jail to flee their native land.

Police said the refugees, "packed like sardines" in their craft, included several elderly women who were ill and a 22-year-old woman who was five months pregnant.

Yvon Bruno, who said he was the leader of the group, reported that the refugees fled Port au Prince, Haiti, Nov. 23 after his father bribed the captain of the guard at a jail to free Bruno and 11 other "political prisoners."

The escapees, their families and friends boarded the boat and sailed for Cuba, where they landed at the town of Maise Dec. 5, Bruno said.

Bruno said the Cubans wanted the 42 men, 20 women and 3 children to declare themselves Communists and ask for asylum from the Castro government. When the refugees refused, he said, the Cubans began stripping them of their personal belongings in exchange for food and water and "even took our shoes," Bruno said.

Kingston News

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wolfe returned home last Tuesday after visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wolfe and family in St. Petersburg, Fla. and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harrington and children in Washington, D. C.

After dinner at the Wardell Party Home in Circleville Friday night, the members of the Civic Club with their husbands went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Likens for the evening. They were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Timmons, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Congrove, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Street, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Manring, the Likens and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, the guest of honor, who was the club's "Citizen of the Year."

The Kingston Methodist Church will hold its Christmas program and have a visit from Santa Claus Sunday night at 7 p.m. The Primay class will present a program of songs followed by a candle lighting service during which Mrs. John Wolfe will sing, "O, Holy Night" accompanied at the piano by Miss Jeanne Beavers. Then Santa makes his appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin entertained at dinner Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Irwin, Chillicothe, Mrs. Olive Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Kelley and son, Pat, Mr. David Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kelley. The occasion was the second birthday of their son, Kelley.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Kingston American Legion, Unit 291 had its annual Christmas dinner last Tuesday night at 6:30. The table was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season and hostesses were Mrs. Olive Kelley and Mrs. Francis Kelley.

In the meeting that followed, Mrs. Paul Miller was in charge and called the meeting to order. Mrs. Olive Kelley brought forth the flag and after the Pledge of Allegiance, Mrs. Leona Gibson offered prayer and the Preamble of the Auxiliary was repeated.

Cards of thanks were read from Mrs. Charles Maxwell and Mrs. Ethel Chester, along with a letter from the Veterans Administration concerning ditty bags, bibs, etc. furnished by the group. They also brought a number of items from a contribution to them by the WSCS.

Dates announced were: Dec. 6 and 7, opening of the gift shop at the Veterans Hospital; Dec. 11, Christmas tree lighting; December 26-27 and 28, Midwinter Conference in Columbus; Feb. 15, Seventh District's birthday party at the hospital.

Mrs. Helen Kneece and Mrs. Donald Dearth are new members of the Auxiliary. Regular meetings will resume again in March.

There is a box in the Red and White Store for donations of food and other items suitable for the American Legion and Auxiliary Christmas baskets.

Mrs. James Seymour and Mrs. Phillip Davis spent last weekend at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Dwight Lanman in Richmond, Ind.

The Civic Club is waiting for more entrants to its Home Decorating contest that will be judged on Dec. 20. To enter your home in one of the three catagories, call Mrs. Howard Fish or Mrs. Kenneth Timmons. The three catagories are(1) a religious theme, (2) a door and (3) an all over decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Grove City spent the past week with his mother, Mrs. Charles Miller.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will have its Christmas program Sunday night, Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. It will be a musical entitled "Go Tell It On the Mountain" with Terry Taylor reading the Christmas Story according to Luke between numbers and presentations made to the live Nativity Scene. The Sunday School will have a tree trimming party on Saturday night. Each child will bring a homemade ornament and there will be refreshments and presents.

Jim Croce Makes His Mark As Songwriter

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — For Jim Croce, success means saying goodbye to the days when he ducked away from flying barstools, popped pills called "West Coast Turnarounds" and cringed from the pain of his jackhammer-cramped hands.

Somehow, there's no way anyone could seriously question whether Croce has paid his so-called dues. It's all too obvious that he has. His songs let you know more than anything else.

Croce, 29, is bounding up the ladder of musical success after nearly a decade of passing the hat and hitting the road. His two most widely recognized songs are "Operator" and "Don't Mess with Jim."

On stage, he comes across with down-to-earth songs, some sad and other comical. And his flexible style of entertainment is, perhaps, his greatest asset — for he sings with a lyrical story-telling style that nearly everyone identifies with because of its appeal to basic emotions.

"I try to approach my songs so others can say they've had that kind of experience too," said Croce, who was raised in South Philadelphia and became a disc jockey before embarking on a musical career.

The thing that Croce is concentrating on more than anything else is improving his already-accomplished style of guitar picking.

"Right now I'm tinkering around with the guitar and trying to become a better player. I listen to Jerry Reid all day and all night. He's unbelievable."

"Between the jackhammers and the steering wheels, my hands have stiffened up," he said of the kind of rugged truck driving and construction work he was doing only a year ago.

Croce likes to recall for his audiences the days when he barrelled down the highways in huge freight trucks trying to keep awake on pep pills.

"They're called 'West Coast Turnarounds,'" he said, "because after you're through driving from Orlando to San Diego you just pop another one in your mouth and turn around to head back. It gets kinds wierd though when you begin having conversation with your windshiled."

Croce's life is a mixed bag if ever there was one. He has a degree in psychology, worked for the State Department on a Mideast cultural exchange program and used to write "jive" radio commercials.

"You know the kind," he said. "They go something like this: 'Alright all you heavy cats out there, we're gonna get down and do it funky right tonight so lay back and let us lay some of that heavy jive music on ya'll man.' "

Though Croce's style borders on country-folk, he's quick to point out that "I grew up listening to country music and a lot of the old-time Jimmy Rodgers stuff. The first groups I played in were bluegrass."

The list of his most respected performers is as varied as his lifestyle. It ranges from classical guitarist Christopher Parkening to the old-time music of Fats Domino.

"Good-time funky music is the stuff I love — stuff like the Coasters and Fats did and stuff that Jerry Reid and Merle Haggard are doing."

His home, at present, is a rented farmhouse in Wagontown, Pa.. "When I go back home," he said, "I like to stop in at the old bars and hangouts."

"It's not a dues paying scene," he added somewhat apologetically. "Rather, it's something I did then and still like to do now.

"Whether sitting at a bar or out of work, I've had a chance to sort things out in my head and with my songs. That way I know where my musical direction is coming from."

"It isn't magic," he said of his songwriting style. "It's just sitting down and trying to say something."

65 Refugees Land In U.S.

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A battered, leaking 56-foot sailboat grounded on a beach near luxury condominiums Tuesday carrying 65 Haitian refugees, 12 of whom said they bribed their way out of jail to flee their native land.

Police said the refugees, "packed like sardines" in their craft, included several elderly women who were ill and a 22-year-old woman who was five months pregnant.

Yvon Bruno, who said he was the leader of the group, reported that the refugees fled Port au Prince, Haiti, Nov. 23 after his father bribed the captain of the guard at a jail to free Bruno and 11 other "political prisoners."

The escapees, their families and friends boarded the boat and sailed for Cuba, where they landed at the town of Maise Dec. 5, Bruno said.

Bruno said the Cubans wanted the 42 men, 20 women and 3 children to declare themselves Communists and ask for asylum from the Castro government. When the refugees refused, he said, the Cubans began stripping them of their personal belongings in exchange for food and water and "even took our shoes," Bruno said.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have many new ideas for gaining the things you want. Make plans for how you wish to spend the coming holidays and the best way to distribute gifts to various members of your family and others. Use your fine mind to advantage by constructive study.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) Get on the beam and know exactly what it is you want to do in the future instead of being so lackadaisical and undecided. Use your gregarious quality for bettering your situation in life.

TAURUS (Apr 20 to May 20) You need ideas from those of great experience if you are to better your position in life at this time. A personal relationship with an associate needs to be put on the right basis.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Look to clever pals for the new ideas you need, even though their fast-acting manners may get on your nerves. Accept a social invitation which can bring the right leads for business.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An ideal day to show you are not only patriotic but a pillar of the community. Show appreciation for the good work that bigwigs are doing. Avoid one who opposes you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A person you meet today can inspire you greatly so that you will soon gain from this meeting. A plan to travel should be formulated for a good purpose you have in mind. Count the cost.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Adopt a system of work that will make it possible to handle your obligations in a most exact way. Discuss with mate those mutual promises you have made. Avoid extravagance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) By listening carefully to the ideas of one who means the most to you, a true meeting of the minds comes about. You can now engage in civic work successfully. Take it easy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show enthusiasm for whatever tasks are ahead of you and they are easily handled. Listen to what associates have to suggest. Strive to gain mutual goals. Show that you have wisdom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you contact persons you like, you can have a delightful time with them now, at the hobbies and recreations mutually enjoyed. Your creative ideas can now be put in operation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Doing whatever will please kin is your best bet today before you get busy on personal plans. Once your fundamental affairs are handled, relax at home in the evening. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get busy using that fine mind you have in constructive channels and express those excellent qualities you possess. Corresponding with persons you want as allies in the future is wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use your practical skills so that you can have a greater income in the near future. Your regular adviser is not available at present, so confer with another business expert.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who will be highly inspired to succeed in life. This can be achieved because of the willingness to work, and the element of good luck that is present in this chart. Teach not to jump into a new venture and then give it up. Give the finest education you can afford.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope's first overseas trip to entertain American servicemen in wartime almost was his last. It started in early 1942, and the destination was Anchorage, Alaska.

The Hope troupe was in a twin-engine Lockheed Lodestar flown by Army pilots. A sudden storm knocked out the plane's radio gear and left the crew completely lost at 13,000 feet.

Parachutes were being issued when a commercial airliner also bound for Anchorage passed through the Lodestar's propwash. Its pilots apparently sensed the Army plane was in trouble and radioed ahead.

Antiaircraft searchlights at the Anchorage airport were turned on. Hope's flight crew spotted the lights during a momentary break in the storm. They landed the plane safely, and the Hope show went on.

The troupe then consisted of actress Frances Langford, comedian Jerry Colonna and guitarist Tony Romano. All now are out of show business.

But Hope, at 69, still is going strong. On Friday, he'll be off on his 29th overseas tour to entertain American servicemen — including a day with those still in Vietnam. It'll be his 20th consecutive Christmas tour.

And it'll be a sentimental journey of sorts for him. He says it probably will be the last he'll make with the king-size troupe he's traveled with at Christmas time the last five or six years.

"I think it'll be the last Christmas tour of any size I'll make," he said at lunch when he was in town last week taping an NBC television special. "But I may still go overseas again.

"What the hell. You get requests from the guys — you can't turn 'em down. I'd like to play some (military) hospitals in the States next year. And maybe I'll go overseas. It all depends."

The first stop on this year's 15-day tour — as in the 1942 trip — will be in Alaska, at a tiny, miserable atoll called Shemya. It's a military refueling base near Attu at the end of the Aleutian chain. About 800 servicemen call it home, reluctantly.

He's doing three shows in South Korea, one at Bayonet Bowl near Seoul. He did his first show there in 1950, at the height of the second war in which he had entertained American fighting men.

He's spending Christmas Day amid yet another war. He'll perform at the sprawling Bien Hoa Air Base northeast of Saigon. He did his first Vietnam show there in 1964.

His unquestioning support of the Vietnam policies of two administrations has come under criticism, but the support is still there. So is a fervent wish that the war ends soon.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have many new ideas for gaining the things you want. Make plans for how you wish to spend the coming holidays and the best way to distribute gifts to various members of your family and others. Use your fine mind to advantage by constructive study.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get on the beam and know exactly what it is you want to do in the future instead of being so lackadaisical and undecided. Use your gregarious quality for bettering your situation in life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You need ideas from those of great experience if you are to better your position in life at this time. A personal relationship with an associate needs to be put on the right basis.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Look to clever pals for the new ideas you need, even though their fast-acting manners may get on your nerves. Accept a social invitation which can bring the right leads for business.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An ideal day to show you are not only patriotic but a pillar of the community. Show appreciation for the good work that bigwigs are doing. Avoid one who opposes you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A person you meet today can inspire you greatly so that you will soon gain from this meeting. A plan to travel should be formulated for a good purpose you have in mind. Count the cost.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Adopt a system of work that will make it possible to handle your obligations in a most exact way. Discuss with mate those mutual promises you have made. Avoid extravagance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) By listening carefully to the ideas of one who means the most to you, a true meeting of the minds comes about. You can now engage in civic work successfully. Take it easy tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show enthusiasm for whatever tasks are ahead of you and they are easily handled. Listen to what associates have to suggest. Strive to gain mutual goals. Show that you have wisdom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you contact persons you like, you can have a delightful time with them now, at the hobbies and recreations mutually enjoyed. Your creative ideas can now be put in operation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Doing whatever will please kin is your best bet today before you get busy on personal plans. Once your fundamental affairs are handled, relax at home in the evening. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get busy using that fine mind you have in constructive channels and express those excellent qualities you possess. Corresponding with persons you want as allies in the future is wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use your practical skills so that you can have a greater income in the near future. Your regular adviser is not available at present, so confer with another business expert.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who will be highly inspired to succeed in life. This can be achieved because of the willingness to work, and the element of good luck that is present in this chart. Teach not to jump into a new venture and then give it up. Give the finest education you can afford.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

City Board Sets New Policy On Smoking Around Schools

In an attempt to reduce in-school smoking, the Circleville Board of Education formulated a new policy Tuesday designating all school buildings and surrounding school land as No-Smoking areas.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs requested the board approve formation of a committee of students, faculty, student council representatives, members of the county ministerial association, Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe and members of the medical profession to pursue the problem of student smoking.

This committee would have two objectives, Jacob noted. One is to encourage youth to resist the temptation of smoking initially. If already involved, the committee will work to correct the problem.

Smoking is a Fire hazard.

Smoking is a costly habit with no apparent benefit but with many hazards — health and safety being of greatest concern.

Buildings will be posted with No Smoking signs, but is to be understood that smoking is prohibited immediately. This includes the carrving of a lighted pipe, cigar, cigarette or tobacco in any form, Jacobs said.

While teachers' lounge areas will be designated ares where smoking is permitted, the superintendent is asking that the faculty voluntarily refrain from smoking in the school building.

Handling of offenders will continue along lines similar to those already in effect.

The board also set a new policy to assist and protect students. Information in student files shall in the future be divided in two categories — non-classified and classified.

Non-classified files contain general personal information, academic progress reports, grades, general health records and ability and achievement test results.

Classfied files contain information such as psychological test results, confidential medical reports, student evaluations, correspondence with parents and other persons regarding the student, and disciplinary records.

Permission to have access to classified files must be given by the principal and the superintendent or delegated administrative authority if the reason is legitimate. This involves school personnel also. Parents have an unrestricted right of access to all school records concerning their children.

A record of requests for information from student's records shall be kept in the file, along with a brief summary of the disposition of the request.

In this way, information valuable to the student for help in planning his future will be available and separate from other classified information on file at the school.

The board also employed Mrs. Paula Jean Kingsley as an elementary teacher to replace Mrs. Martha Pendasulo. She holds a bachelor degree from Mukingum College and has three years' teaching experience.

Added to substitute lists were: Mrs. Kathleen N. Benson, kindergarten and elementary; Mrs. Winifred Beckley, elementary; Kathryn Huffer, elementary and EMR; Virgil Cress, secondary.

Last year, the board purchased a printing press for the Junior High industrial arts program and have incorporated printing into that program. Kester McCain and Richard Neal, teachers, presented a request last night that the board purchase 125 cases of type in two cabinets that are a part of this printing press equipment. The purchase was okayed by the board at a cost of $600.

Attendance was granted for Anna Hicks to attend OEA Representative Assembly in Cincinnati, Dec. 7, 8 and 9 and Clifford Kerns, Ohio Music Education Convention in Cleveland, Feb. 1, 2, 3.

January 1 was set as the tentative date for the reorganization meeting and a possible special meeting set Dec. 26.

The board voted to continue membership in the Ohio School Boards Association.

A new wrestling mat to replace one seven years old is to be purchased at a cost of $2,650. The mat is also used in the high school physical education program.

A quotation was received from Van Camp Paving for work in the junior high parking lot and walkways to rear entrances. Total cost of the areas involved with be $686, including seal.

Attending the meeting as guests were Louis Sampson, Mrs. Evelyn Ralston, Ann Myers and Debbie Radabaugh, Kester McCain and Richard Neel.

Gunfire Mars Irish Talks

BELFAST (AP) — Terrorist gunfire killed a police officer Tuesday night and wounded four persons, including a 12-year-old girl. But Northern Ireland's political climate appeared to improve as British Administrator William Whitelaw met with both Roman Catholic and Protestant political leaders.

The 47-year-old police officer was off duty when he was felled by a fusillade of some 30 shots as he left a hotel on the outskirts of Belfast. His killing brought the confirmed death toll to 661 in more than three years of communal strife.

A machine-gun burst from a passing car, fired at a Belfast bar frequented by Roman Catholics, hit a 12-year-old girl buying candy in a store next door, two teen-age youths standing on the sidewalk and a man inside the bar. None were seriously injured.

Whitelaw met first with leaders of the Protestant Unionist Party, Northern Ireland's ruling faction until the British government supplanted it in March, and then with leaders of the Social Democratic and Labor Party, the party of the province's moderate Catholics.

It was the first time the Catholic party had met with Whitelaw to discuss the political future of Northern Ireland. The meeting was kept secret until after it was over to prevent an attack by the Catholic guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army, who contend that Ireland can be reunified only by fighting.

Discover Body Of Ex-Grid Coach

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—The Columbiana County coroner has ruled accidental drowning in the death of retired Youngstown State University football coach Dwight Beede, whose body was found Tuesday in a creek bordering his 125-acre farm.

The coroner, Dr. William Koloszi, said there was no indication of foul play.

A saw which Beede apparently had been using to prune trees was found on the bank of the creek. Authorities said he apparently had been walking along the creek and fell down a seven-foot bank into the water. The body was recovered from ten feet of water in the Little Beaver Creek.

Gather Facts, Not Demands, LBJ Tells Black Leaders

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson says black leaders should approach the Nixon administration with facts and not with demands.

"It's mighty easy for any group that has suffered as long and as cruelly as you have to feel a sense of injustices," Johnson said.

"But he (Nixon) doesn't want to leave the presidency feeling he's been unjust. It's important that you talk to the President, his Cabinet and to Congress. But don't go in there demanding or threatening."

Johnson's advice came Tuesday after the Rev. A. Kendall Smith, an unscheduled speaker, pushed his way to the podium at a civil rights symposium and listed several demands. The Rev. Mr. Smith, a New York minister, had asked Johnson for permission to give the benediction.

"We demand the extension of today's agenda," Smith told the closing session of the two-day symposium.

"To adjourn today makes this symposium no more than an empty ritual honoring one man. For this symposium not to expand and deal with a new definition of equality is to refuse the sun of a new day and prevents a rendezvous with the future."

Johnson, who already had given the closing address, returned to the podium after Smith's remarks were answered by Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"This is what I mean when I said it was time to stop playing games," Mitchell said. "If President Johnson has the courage to speak himself against white demagoguery, then I shall speak out whenever I have the chance against the black demagoguery."

8 Ohioans Win Awards By Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eight Ohioans were cited for contributions to their communities by Governor John Gilligan Tuesday.

—MIDDLETOWN, Steve Andres, 13, credited with saving the life of his infant brother.

—COLUMBUS, Carl Wagner, general manager of Radio Station WTVN, and William S. Guthrie, president of Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan, for initiating a post-election clean up campaign.

—MANSFIELD, Ohio Highway Patrolman William C. Anliker, for helping to save the life of a heart attack victim.

Crash Injuries Fatal

All-American To Speak At Community UM

Robert Davenport will be the guest of Community United Methodist Church on Dec. 17. Davenport is the founder and director of Wandering Wheels, a nationally known bicycling program.

A member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, he attended UCLA where he played three years of college football. Davenport was an All-American fullback, played two years of Canadian Professional ball, and served as head football coach at Taylor University for 11 years, five of which accounted for Conference Championships.

Davenport will be speaking to both youth and adults during the 9:30 a.m. Church School hour, and again to the youth and college age groups at 8 p.m.

Fire Destroys Car

Thomas Hicks, Wilmington, Del., smelled rubber burning in his car 9:02 p.m. Tuesday. After about five minutes, he noticed the car was on fire.

And ten minutes later, before the Williamsport Fire Department could respond to the call on the Columbus-Darbyville Rd., the car was a total loss. Value was set at $1,300.

City Board Sets New Policy On Smoking Around Schools

In an attempt to reduce in-school smoking, the Circleville Board of Education formulated a new policy Tuesday designating all school buildings and surrounding school land as No-Smoking areas.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs requested the board approve formation of a committee of students, faculty, student council representatives, members of the county ministerial association, Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe and members of the medical profession to pursue the problem of student smoking.

This committee would have two objectives, Jacob noted. One is to encourage youth to resist the temptation of smoking initially. If already involved, the committee will work to correct the problem.

The superintendent cited four reasons for enforcement of this policy:

It is illegal for youths under 18 to purchase cigarettes.

Smoking is a Fire hazard.

Current information indicates smoking to be a health hazard.

Smoking is a costly habit with no apparent benefit but with many hazards — health and safety being of greatest concern.

Buildings will be posted with No Smoking signs, but is to be understood that smoking is prohibited immediately. This includes the carrying of a lighted pipe, cigar, cigarette or tobacco in any form, Jacobs said.

While teachers' lounge areas will be designated ares where smoking is permitted, the superintendent is asking that the faculty voluntarily refrain from smoking in the school building.

Handling of offenders will continue along lines similar to those already in effect.

The board also set a new policy to assist and protect students. Information in student files shall in the future be divided in two categories — non-classified and classified.

Non-classified files contain general personal information, academic progress reports, grades, general health records and ability and achievement test results.

Classfied files contain information such as psychological test results, confidential medical reports, student evaluations, correspondence with parents and other persons regarding the student, and disciplinary records.

Permission to have access to classified files must be given by the principal and the superintendent or delegated administrative authority if the reason is legitimate. This involves school personnel also. Parents have an unrestricted right of access to all school records concerning their children.

A record of requests for information from student's records shall be kept in the file, along with a brief summary of the disposition of the request.

In this way, information valuable to the student for help in planning his future will be available and separate from other classified information on, file at the school.

The board also employed Mrs. Paula Jean Kingsley as an elementary teacher to replace Mrs. Martha Pendasulo. She holds a bachelor degree from Mukingum College and has three years' teaching experience.

Added to substitute lists were: Mrs. Kathleen N. Benson, kindergarten and elementary; Mrs. Winifred Beckley, elementary; Kathryn Huffer, elementary and EMR; Virgil Cress, secondary.

Last year, the board purchased a printing press for the Junior High industrial arts program and have incorporated printing into that program. Kester McCain and Richard Neal, teachers, presented a request last night that the board purchase 125 cases of type in two cabinets that are a part of this printing press equipment. The purchase was okayed by the board at a cost of $600.

Attendance was granted for Anna Hicks to attend OEA Representative Assembly in Cincinnati, Dec. 7, 8 and 9 and Clifford Kerns, Ohio Music Education Convention in Cleveland, Feb. 1, 2, 3.

January 1 was set as the tentative date for the reorganization meeting and a possible special meeting set Dec. 26.

The board voted to continue membership in the Ohio School Boards Association.

A new wrestling mat to replace one seven years old is to be purchased at a cost of $2,650. The mat is also used in the high school physical education program.

A quotation was received from Van Camp Paving for work in the junior high parking lot and walkways to rear entrances. Total cost of the areas involved with be $686, including seal.

Attending the meeting as guests were Louis Sampson, Mrs. Evelyn Ralston, Ann Myers and Debbie Radabaugh, Kester McCain and Richard Neel.
